BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the unanimous consent of the House to introduce a bill.

The SPEAKER. The title of the bill will be read for the information of the House.

The title was read as follows:

An Act to establish as a State highway a certain section of public road in the County of Lackawanna, and providing for its construction and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the introduction of the bill. Are there objections?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COLEMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lackawanna why he is asking for consent to introduce this bill at this time. Is there any reason why it could not have been introduced before the closing date fixed for the introduction of bills in the House?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware, I will say that this bill was placed in the hands of the Legislative Reference Bureau two days before the date fixed for the final introduction of bills. For some reason or other it was mislaid and my colleague from Lackawanna, Mr. Davies, has asked me to introduce it today.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. SHEA offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the rules.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS APPROPRIATIONS

Mr. TURNER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1937.

Whereas, The school laws of the Commonwealth provide that the appropriations made for the support of the public schools shall be distributed semi-annually during the months of February and August to fourth class districts, during March and September to second and third class districts and during April and October to first class districts; and

Whereas, The last of these three spring payments is now due and there are rumors that the payments due in February and March have not been paid in full, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Treasury Department shall furnish by Monday, May 3, 1937, to this House a detailed statement of the account of the Commonwealth with the various school districts, showing the amounts due to districts, of accounts payable during the months of February and March 1937, and the accounts, if any, which may be due for the August, September and October, 1936 payments.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be transmitted to the Treasury Department by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the unanimous consent of the House for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been advised by a number of the school districts that they are in a rather difficult position because there are moneys due them for a long period of time. My inspection of the accounts of the State as of this morning shows, that there is about twenty-five million dollars in the General Fund, and it therefore seems to me that the school districts that are in need of this money should receive it. That is the reason why I am asking for immediate consideration, in order that we may receive from the Treasury Department a statement of just exactly what is the real condition.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, reserving my right to object, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Delaware acquainted with the fact that I am about to present a resolution granting the use of the Hall of this House to the Hon. F. Clair Ross for the purpose of having the oath of office as Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania administered to the said F. Clair Ross?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am not familiar with the fact that the gentleman is about to present a resolution. I am familiar with the fact that on Tuesday, I think it is, or Monday, F. Clair Ross will be sworn in as State Treasurer.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that at the present time the esteemed gentleman from Philadelphia, Hon. Charles Waters is now the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that is a rather silly question. We all know that he is.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that the said Charles Waters is a member of the same political party as the gentleman from Delaware?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that I understand to be correct. I have not examined his registration recently, but from all reports he is still supposed to be a Republican.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, has not the gentleman from Delaware always been able to secure whatever information he might desire from the present Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania without the necessity of introducing a resolution?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would not say that that has always been true.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Delaware requested from the present State Treasurer the facts which he wishes to submit to this House by his resolution.

Mr. TURNER. I have not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from York feel that a member of the Legislature does not have the right to request information from the head of a department whether he be of the same party or not?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the interrogation submitted by the gentleman from Delaware, I would say that a member of the Legislature has the complete right to ask the membership of this House to ask any department or any function of the Commonwealth to submit any information to this House that the Legislature might deem advisable to have submitted. If on any occasion an individual member of this House desires information relative to any of the affairs of the Commonwealth, I feel sure that this Administration and I feel sure that the Administration which is now in charge of the Treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will be only too glad to submit whatever information is available to the gentleman or to any member of this House without the necessity of introducing a resolution. If we should fall into the procedure of introducing a resolution every time information is required by a particular member of this House, I feel sure that the functions of the Commonwealth would be impinged upon to the extent that we would be devoting the entire time of the Legislative session to introducing resolutions requesting information, and I, therefore, persist in my objection.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER.

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if I followed the gentleman from York in the maze of the answer which he gave — which, as usual, is very adroit and leads us off into a lot of other fields — I cannot see any reason why he should object if he feels that a member of the Legislature has the right to go direct to a department and ask for information. I can see no difference between that procedure and the presentation of a resolution asking for the information. Because it certainly would take no more time for the department to comply with the resolution than it would to answer the individual request of the member. As far as the presentation of a resolution is concerned, I am sure that the members of the House have never and will not abuse that privilege. I feel that this is an important question and one that requires not an informal answer to a member of the House but one that is important and important today. If I should go to the Treasury Department, that department, as we know, is about to go out of office and in a few days all of their activities will have ceased and they may feel that they cannot grant the ordinary request coming from a member of the Legislature as an individual and it was for that reason that I offered this resolution and asked for its immediate adoption. I think, under the circumstances, the gentleman from York should withdraw his objection and allow immediate consideration. It can offer no greater difficulties to the Department than if I asked it individually, and if I did ask individually it might not be forthcoming for some time by reason of the change in the office. I, therefore, ask the gentleman from York if he will not withdraw his objection.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, by advice of counsel I must persist in my objection.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

USE OF HALL OF HOUSE GRANTED.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent of the House for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1937.

Resolved, That the use of the Hall of the House of Representatives be granted for Monday, May 3, 1937 at 12 o'clock noon for the purpose of administering the oath of office to Honorable F. Clair Ross, the State Treasurer elect of this Commonwealth.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, under all of the rules of the game I should object, but I think I have a little different approach than the gentleman from York. The consequence of his objection is something that injures the school districts of Pennsylvania. The consequence of my objection would not be personal to Mr. Cohen but would be something that perhaps would be inconvenient and embarrassing to the incoming State Treasurer. Therefore, I will not object to the immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TURNER. Resolution No. 74 referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

By Mr. SHEA. RESOLUTION No. 75.

In the House of Representatives April 28, 1937

Whereas, During the centuries, medicine has been developed for the betterment of mankind. By the eradiction of disease, a development not made without sacrifice, at times resulting in death. Many unsung heroes have come and gone. Occasionally a Walter Reed appears and his attainments of heroism are made permanent by a colossal monument—The Walter Reed Hospital—many others pass on; and

Whereas, No other advanced country permits cults to practice—The Army—The Navy of all countries prohibit pseudo medicine, so that the maimed and wounded of the deck and battle field be given the advanced treatments and helpful influence of modern medical science; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has attained an enviable social and medical status since Dr. Rush and others started an ever upward development of medicine within its domain. Such development included the commanding genius of all the great scientists who have made Pennsylvania famous—Benjamin Franklin, Joseph Leidy, The Grosses, Priestly, Da Costas, Mitchells, our famous democrat—MacClellan, our great medical institutions—Jefferson, University of Pennsylvania, Temple, Hahneman, Pittsburgh, etc; and

Whereas, One of Philadelphias great newspapers—The Record, recently exposed a fake charity racket, presumably for the benefit of a cult hospital and its members.

This cult is only a prototype of several other cults that recently have been bombarding our Assembly for the rights to unusual practice, for a chance at the budget of the Commonwealth and in the last analysis not for their betterment but for the lowering of medical standards; therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly, no doubt in a nonpartisan way will uphold the medical standards of our Commonwealth by giving no comfort to such cults.

General medicine in every Assembly is practically put on trial. If she was guilty of neglect, if she was guilty of wanton cruelty, if her work was depressing instead of elevating, if her services to humanity were negligible, then she should be subject to such abuse, otherwise let her say who can and who cannot practice the healing arts.

Referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

Whereas The production sale and distribution of milk and certain milk products in this Commonwealth are attendant with serious conditions affecting milk producers milk dealers and consumers of milk the following legislative findings of fact with respect thereto are hereby made

1 Milk is the most necessary human food vital for promotion of the public health and for development of strength and vigor in the race It is a most fertile field for the growth of bacteria and therefore its production and distribution have been surrounded by more costly sanitary requirements than those of any other commodity in this the third greatest milk producing and consuming State of the nation

2 Milk consumers are not assured of a constant and sufficient supply of pure wholesome milk unless the high cost of maintaining sanitary conditions of production and standards of purity is returned to the producers of milk If this is not done large numbers dispose of their herds or engage in milk strikes and remaining producers supply unhealthful milk or milk lower quality because of financial inability to comply with sanitary requirements and to keep vigilant against contamination Public health is menaced when milk dealers do not or cannot pay a price to producers commensurate with the cost of sanitary production or when consumers are required to pay excessive prices for this necessity of life

3 Milk dealers must handle constant surpluses to meet the emergency requirements of normal variations in fluid consumption and to meet seasonal variations in production which amounts in excess of fluid requirements must find a market in fluid use or in manufacture and tend to demoralize the industry Only one per centum of the milk dealers of the Commonwealth handle over sixty per centum of the milk sold by producers to dealers and persons have often combined privately to establish practices or fix prices to the detriment of producers or consumers

4 Milk producers must make delivery of their highly perishable commodity immediately after it is produced and must generally accept any market at any price Under the utilization method of payment prevailing in the milk industry particularly in cities the value of this market is unknown until the milk dealer sells the fluid milk and uses or disposes of the surplus Furthermore only the dealers have facilities for accurately weighing and testing milk This knowledge of weights tests and uses is in the exclusive possession of the dealer The producers' lack of control over their market is aggravated by the trade custom of dealers in paying weeks after delivery keeping producers obligated to continue delivery in order to receive payment for previous sales and permitting dealers to operate on the producers' capital without giving security therefor Hence milk producers are subject to fraud and imposition and do not possess the freedom of contract necessary for the procuring of cost of production

Whereas public control of the milk industry in recent years is stabilizing the conditions therein and a relaxation of control will cause a return to the unhealthful uneconomic deceptive and destructive practices of the past with respect to this paramount industry upon which the health and welfare of the Commonwealth largely depends and

Whereas It is necessary to preserve and promote the strength and vigor of the inhabitants of this Commonwealth to protect the public health and welfare and to prevent fraud and imposition upon consumers and producers by continuing to treat the production transportation manufacture processing storage distribution and sale of milk in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a business affecting the public health and affected with a public interest

Dear Sir:

In accordance with provisions of Chapter 218 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Virginia, 1936, approved March 23, 1936, directing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to communicate the text of this act of the Governor, to the Senate and to the House of Delegates of each of the other States and to memorialize each legislature, which has not already done so, to enact a law similar to this measure. Which was referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, Pennsylvania is faced with a glorious opportunity to enter the foreground of progressive states in the country. There has never been a time as now when the pulse of our great Commonwealth has throbbed so impetuously for liberal legislation. Our distinguished President has blazed the path for the nation and has brought light into the darkened lives of our down-trodden citizens. The people of Pennsylvania have the right to expect the present Administration in Harrisburg to emulate the splendid achievements of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A few months ago I stated, on the floor of this Chamber, that the Democratic Party in this State was on trial before the bar of Public Opinion. And I re-assert tonight that the Party in power is still on trial. Ten million people are eagerly awaiting the redemption of our campaign promises. They are growing restive at our failure to produce tangible and re-assuring evidence of our good faith. They refuse to be comforted or deceived by high-sounding phrases and remote promises which have been for years the forte of astute politicians. Our citizens demand ACTION, not at some indeterminate future date, but NOW. And the present Administration will fail in its duty if this imperative need for immediate action is compromised.

The Democratic Party has unequivocally pledged itself to the relief of our utility consumers. Our good Governor has repeatedly re-affirmed this pledge. And, you may recall, a far-reaching public utility law was promised to the people of this State for March 15th. Seven weeks have already elapsed, but the bill has not yet reached the Senate. And my observations prompt me to aver that, from present indications, it will be a long time before any substantial relief for our rate-payers will become a reality. I feel that I must warn my fellow-members of the Democratic Party that if we fail in this responsibility, we shall justly invite the accusation of having sold out to the utilities.

I am not unmindful of the dispatch with which our old seven-man Public Service Commission was supplanted with a new five-man Public Utility Commission. Let us remember, however, that, from the viewpoint of many citizens, the appointment of the new Commission is thus far conclusive of nothing save a change in the political complexion of our State regulatory body. And, may I state that if this Legislature had manifested the same zeal in bringing relief to our rate-payers as it had demonstrated in ousting the old Commission, I am sure that, regardless of whatever else is accomplished during this Session, we would have carved an enviable niche for ourselves in the legislative hall of fame.

Our difficulty appears to be that we have become engulfed in a maelstrom of investigations and legislation affecting one community in our Commonwealth. While it is not my purpose to question the desirability of making Philadelphia a City of Brotherly Love in fact as well as in name, is it not time that we, the chosen representatives of our citizens, recovered our equilibrium and restored our sense of values.

Is it fair to neglect matters concerning the welfare and happiness of ten million men, women and children in Pennsylvania while we seek the Utopian perfection of a community of two million? Are we faithful to our trust when we confine our efforts to the saving of a certain sum of money for the taxpayers of one community and ignore the millions of dollars which are being mulcted each year from our electric utility consumers? And, if I may use a hackneyed expression, are we not penny wise and pound foolish? Have we become calloused to the urgent need of our people for relief from the million dollar weekly gouging by the electric companies? Have we ceased to be concerned with the excessive dividends which the utilities are paying to their holding companies, which, if continued much longer, will so impair the financial structures of our operating companies that increased rates to the consumers will result instead of reductions?

Let us pause to reflect and recover our balance. Let us not be so blinded by any spirit of vindictiveness against persons or communities as to obscure our vision of our greater responsibility. Let us all work together in the interests of the great mass of our people.

I trust that my remarks will not be construed as aspersive of my distinguished colleagues or of any legislation which has been enacted into law during this session. But I cannot escape the conviction that we have been derelict in a most important duty: effective action to remedy our deplorable electric utility situation. And I attribute such dereliction principally to powerful outside influences.

Harrisburg has become a veritable bee-hive of utility lobbyists. They are here in greater numbers than at any previous session of the legislature. And many of them are openly boasting that they have everything under control. They claim sufficient votes in this Chamber to defeat any legislation inimical to their interests. Are we to believe that some leading members of the Democratic Party have already bowed to the pressure of these lobbyists? Time will tell.

At the proper time I shall submit evidence of the devious practices of the utilities and their lobbyists in delaying and obstructing effective legislation for the welfare of the consumers, how they first seek to emasculate a bill by amendments, then insist on public hearings, then further amendments and some more hearings, until an opportunity is presented to press for early adjournment of the legislature in the hope of killing a bill in committee or allowing an insufficient time before adjournment to correct any emasculatory amendments. However, for the present, I wish to serve notice on these utilities and their lobbyists that I shall fight against any early adjournment of this legislature until the Democratic Party has initiated effective action for the relief of our utility rate-payers.

My immediate concern is a set of resolutions which I have introduced in this chamber on January 18, almost four months ago. One of these resolutions was designed to effect a reduction of 50% in the rates of our residential and rural consumers of electricity. The other resolution was intended to stop the payment of excessive dividends by the electric utilities to their holding companies. At the time I presented these resolutions, I asked for their immediate adoption, but one of my Senatorial colleagues from Philadelphia, for reasons best known to himself, objected, and they were referred to the Commitee on Public Utilities. During the past few months, I repeatedly urged the Chairman of the Committee on Public Utilities to call a meeting of his Committee, of which I happen to be a member, for the purpose of considering the merits of these resolutions. My efforts were of no avail and I recently served notice on him, by registered letter, of my contemplated action on this floor.

These resolutions are of vital importance to the welfare of the consumers in this State.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE FROM CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTIONS NOS. 6 AND 7

Mr, JASPAN. Mr. President, I therefore move that the Committee on Public Utilities be discharged from consideration of these resolutions Nos. 6 and 7 and that they be ordered to the floor of the Senate for immediate adoption.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I am amazed at the action taken at this time by my friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan. Just last week we talked this matter over together, at which time I told him that I had talked with one of the members of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, and that House Bill No. 851, which provides the procedure of this whole field, would likely be brought into the Senate this week, at which time I told the Senator from Philadelphia, a meeting of the Committee on Public Utilities would be called and all bills and all resolutions would be then considered. There is not a member in this Senate, Mr. President, who is more determined to have no bills and no resolutions remain in any committee than is the Senator from Washington County. I have fought that procedure ever since I have been here, and I must take it as a personal affront when a member gets up and says by inference that I proposed to kill a bill or resolution in committee of this Senate, and I serve notice on the Senator from Philadelphia, and on every other member that is in the Senate that I shall never be a party to a resolution or bill being killed in committee without full consideration being given to it.

This administration, Mr. President, is trying to work out this Public Utility Situation as a whole matter, and not by piece-meal, and I have consistently told the Senator from Philadelphia, that all bills and resolutions that have to do with piece-meal regulations will be held until we see how many of these questions are to be taken up with House Bill No. 851, which I understand will reach the Senate this week. However, it seems that the Senator from Philadelphia had a prepared speech, he wanted to deliver to the Senate, and even after my talk with him and with the other members of this Senate, he moved tonight to discharge that committee. If this Senate believes that my committee has been trying to hold back this resolution or any other bills or resolutions in committee, then let them move to discharge the committee, but, Mr. President, I say to the members of this Senate that there is no determination or effort on my part to stifle or blot out the consideration of any bill or resolution, and I say now to the Senator from Philadelphia, that he should not be too hasty, and that the resolution should be carefully considered by the members of this Senate before they vote on it, that is now on your desk, Mr. President.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the motion before the Senate has not been seconded.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Washington if it is his understanding that in his conversation with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, that he agreed to have a meeting of the Committee on Public Utilities this week and that the committee would give this resolution consideration.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, my answer to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is this: I went over to see Mr. Buchanan, of the Pennsylvania Utility Commission, and he told me that House Bill No. 851, which regulates the whole field of procedure of the Public Utilities Commission would likely be in the Senate this week, and I told the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, that when this bill came into the Senate I would call a meeting of the Committee on Public Utilities and then consider every bill and every resolution in that committee.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Washington refer to House Bill No. 851?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I seconded the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan to discharge the committee, and in view of the statement of the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, who is chairman of that committee I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, if he will allow the motion to lie on the table for this week.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I have discussed this matter with my friend the Senator from Washington County, Mr. Reed, and he said that he has called at least four meetings and probably more than four, of the Committee on Public Utilities, and on each occasion I asked him to take up the question of this resolution and on each occasion he would pat me on the back and get on around the shoulder, and say "the next time, the next time, Senator," or, "well, sooner or later we're going to have bill No 850 and 851 brought up before the Senate. I said "what are the people going to do in the mean time?" They want relief; they seek relief. There's no telling what will happen to Bill No. 851. It may be so weak that we will not recognize it, and in the meanwhile the people are suffering. They want relief.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I seconded the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, because I feel that he is sincere in his efforts, and I have also heard the statement of the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, who is chairman of that committee, and I feel he also is in earnest, therefore,

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

I move that this motion to discharge the committee be laid on the table for the present.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr MALLERY. Mr. President, I have the highest regard for every member of this Senate, but I want to emphasize the fact that I have an especially high regard for the chairman of the Public Utility Committee, Mr. Reed. There is not a Senator in this body who has always been as fair, I think, as the chairman of that committee, and as a member of this body who voted for the new Public Utility Commission, and as a member of the minority party in this body, it would seem to me that the majority or a member at least of the majority party in this State and in this body should give that commission, which has been confirmed only a few weeks ago an opportunity to act; therefore, I want to serve notice that I will oppose this resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JASPAN and Mr. RICE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—39

Bean,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Rodgers,
Buchman,	Gilson,	McCreesh,	Rupp,

RELATIVE TO THE McGINNIS LABOR RELATIONS MEASURE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 3, 1937.

NEWSPAPER INFORMATION
FOR RELEASE WHEN MESSAGE IS READ

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Your honorable body now has under consideration the labor relations measure known as the McGinnis bill, sponsored by Senator McGinnis of Allegheny County.

I have given this bill the most careful study, since the Administration and the bajority of both Houses stand firmly committed to the principles of unionization and collective bargaining.

Representatives of industrial interests have protested to me that this bill is too drastic.

I have not found that to be the case. I have found, however, that several features of the bill, none of them materially affecting its fundamental purpose, differ from those of the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

As drafted, the McGinnis bill includes not only the essential provisions of the Wagner Act but also the extensions of that Act resulting from Labor Board rulings and court decisions, together with several other additional provisions.

After examining the bill, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti has advised me that the safer procedure, in order to assure the constitutionality of this bill, would be to make the amendments necessary to bring the bill strictly in line with the Wagner Act as originally written. He has pointed out that the McGinnis bill will be obliged to run two gauntlets—of both the State and Federal Constitutions—whereas the Wagner Act was required to conform only to the Federal Constitution.

If your honorable body wishes to pass this bill in its present form I shall be happy to sign it and leave legal questions for the courts. However, since the necessary amendments do not in any essential respect change the fundamental character of the bill, but merely eliminate certain additional provisions which might render the whole bill unconstitutional, it has been deemed advisable to insert those amendments.

The bill as amended gives complete and absolute guarantees to labor. The Attorney General has assured me that it will stand the test of constitutionality. It has the support of industry. It has the support of Labor. It has the support of the Department of Labor and Industry and of my Administration.

I therefore urge you, in the interest of industrial stability and economic justice, to advance this bill as amended and provide for its final passage as expeditiously as possible.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 555.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented communications from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to House Bill No. 555, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two, four, five, eight, thirteen, sixteen, seventeen and twenty-three of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, (P. L. 1076), entitled "Credit Union Law," changing certain requirements for incorporation; enlarging the scope of membership; permitting compensation to directors and committee members; clarifying the basis for the collection of interest and fines; providing for refunds of interest on obligations paid before maturity and permitting officers a limited right of borrowing; further regulating the maintenance of reserve funds and the determination and payment of dividends; and providing for further tax exemptions.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the Conference report has been printed and is on the desks of the Senators.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move the adoption of the report of the Committee on Conference on House Bill No. 555.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks will state his question of Parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to know what bill this is, what is the printer's number, and whether or not it is on the calendar?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the report is on the desks of the Senators.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, may I ask if it is printed on the calendar, as required by the Rules of the Senate?

The PRESIDENT. I know of no requirement for conference reports to be printed on the calendar.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask for the printer's number of this report, so that we may find it in our files.

The PRESIDENT. Printer's number 783.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, House or Senate?

The PRESIDENT. House file.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask that this bill go over in its order so that we may have an opportunity to read it, and the Senators who have had no notice of its coming up. It is a bill of 14 pages, and I think it was only fair that we know what is being voted on in the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should be very glad to withdraw my motion for the time being to give the Senator from Bucks an opportunity to acquaint himself on the bill. I should like to say however that this bill was before the Senate and the House and was voted on by the Senate, and additional amendments put in and passed by the Senate. There were two amendments: one of the amendments restricted the dealing with credit unions, and one of the amendments gave the right to fraternal organizations to engage in the credit union business. The amendments dealt with the discounting and returning of interest to those who anticipated the due date of the note. When the bill came into the House, they insisted that the discount be eliminated. The conference compromised the measure and the conference report covers the two phases, the fraternal prohibition, that the fraternal organizations may engage in credit unions, and the discounting anticipation, whether to return the interest or the original anticipated payment, and it is taken out, so that the only change is to take out of the fraternal organization the right to engage in credit unions.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair suggests that the proper parliamentary procedure would be for the report to lie on the desk.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the report lie on the desk of the Senators for the time being.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I wish to say that I hold in my hand a resolution which my colleague, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, and myself are introducing and will ask for its immediate adoption.

On April 13th, I believe it was, I said in some remarks on the floor of this body that we have a shameful situation here in the good old Keystone State, in the fact that while the teachers in the Public Schools in Pennsylvania and the pupils in those schools know considerably about the beginning in Massachusetts, they know practically nothing about the beginning in this Commonwealth. This is no fault of the teachers in the public schools, no fault of the pupils in the public schools, but the fault of the text books, elementary American History that came into our schools, that while telling considerably about the first settlements in Massachusetts, New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Virginia, and others of the thirteen original states, utterly ignore the beginnings of Pennsylvania. As a result of this, very little do the boys and girls know of the beginning of the State of Pennsylvania, and relatively much more do they know about the beginning of Massachusetts. A traveler from Mars coming here would almost suspect that it was the money of Massachusetts or the money of New York that is keeping the bells ringing and the switches swinging in the public schools of the Keystone State. Due to the lack of vision of the public school heads of Pennsylvania, where I find this lack of vision, I am willing and anxious that this body give that vision. "It is more blessed to give than to receive," and so, Mr. President, my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, and I are introducing this resolution directing the Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania to protest to the various publishing companies text books of American history who offer to sell them to the public schools of this Commonwealth, and protest against such works that tell the pupils about the first settlements in other states and ignore the first setlements in our own Commonwealth.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO TEXT BOOKS ON AMERICAN HISTORY USED IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, The texts on American History used in the public schools of this Commonwealth, with but few exceptions, ignore the Colony of New Sweden which made the first settlements in Pennsylvania and erected the first State House in Pennsylvania, at the same time devoting much space to the first settlements in Massachusetts, New York, Virginia and others of the thirteen original states, and

Whereas, Due to the fact that the said texts on American History used in the public schools of this Commonwealth ignore the Colony of New Sweden, the teachers and pupils in the public schools of this Commonwealth know more about the beginnings in Massachusetts, New York, Virginia and others of the thirteen original states than they do about the beginnings in Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, This situation is very much deplored by the Senate of Pennsylvania and by millions of citizens and taxpayers of this Commonwealth who resent the fact that the boys and girls in the public schools of Pennsylvania are taught the beginnings in Massachusetts, New York, Virginia, and others of the thirteen original states to almost the entire exclusion of the beginnings in this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The Colony of New Sweden had a number of excellencies which, in the language of Shakespeare, "plead like angels trumpet-tongued against the deep damnation" of ignoring the high spots of its glorious history in any text on American History used in the public schools of this Commonwealth, among such excellencies being (1) the establishing and carrying out of a just Indian Policy, (2) the absence of slavery therein, (3) the planting of the precious principle of religious liberty in a place where, in the providence of Almighty God, it was destined to enjoy an uninterrupted growth from the time of its planting, thus hastening the dawn of the day when it became the most cherished and sacred principle in the structure of our American Commonwealth, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Superintendent of Public Instruction be directed to protest in writing to the Macmillan Company, New York City; Ginn and Company, New York City; Rand McNally and Company, New York City; Iroquois Publishing Company, Syracuse, New York; John C. Winston Company, Philadelphia, Pa., and other publishers of United States History Texts used in the public schools of this Commonwealth, against the offering for sale and the sale of any American History Text for use in the public schools of this Commonwealth which ignores the ships Kalmar Nyckel (Key of Kalmar) and Fogel Grip that brought the first settlers to Pennsylvania; which ignores the establishment at Tinicum of the first permanent seat of government in Pennsylvania; which ignores the first State House in Pennsylvania; which ignores the able and admirable Governor of New Sweden, John Printz, who established the first permanent seat of government in Pennsylvania and which ignores the fact that the Colony of New Sweden planted the precious principle of religious liberty in Pennsylvania soil, and be it further

Resolved, That the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall cause this resolution to be published in the next issue of the Pennsylvania School Journal, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the Chief Clerk of the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, a few moments ago, in response to my legislative inquiry, the Chair said that he knew of no rule requiring reports of a Committee of Conference to be noted on the calendar. I now read Rule 21: "That the vote on concurring in bills amended by the House or on adopting reports of committees of conference, shall not be taken until said bills and reports have been placed on the files of the Senators, and particularly referred to on their calendars."

My point of order is, therefore, that House Bill No. 555 cannot be considered by the Senate until it is printed on the calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The matter has been disposed of by motion of the Senate, and the point of order is overruled, with the understanding that the point may be brought up on another conference report of this Senate.

RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. DANDO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DANDO offered the following resolution which was twice read considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 3, 1937.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, May 10th, at nine o'clock, Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, May 10th, at nine o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Erie, Mr. Gilson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, in my brief experience as a Senator, I have risen once before on a question of personal privilege. The atmosphere has somewhat cleared on this resolution offered by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan. My question is simply this: That I will consider it a duty to my constituents and to the public of the State of Pennsylvania to insist that when House Bill No. 851, a Public Utility Commission regulatory act comes before the Senate, that both the Committee on Public Utilities and the Senate shall have due time for proper consideration of that bill, and if it is not done, I will join with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, and any other member of the Senate to oppose an adjournment of this legislature until the Senate of Pennsylvania has an opportunity to act on that bill, consistent with the trust placed in them by the public of the State of Pennsylvania. That is my question of personal privilege.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this bill is in the interest of the consumers' co-operative associations. It was a movement started in 1844 in this country and it is, in my opinion, going to grow. It ought to be encouraged because it is pure democracy. A group of people get together and for their mutual interest and self-preservation a group of co-operatives. It is not what would be a capitalistic system for profit, but it is working under a capitalistic system for use and not for profit that is a non-profits corporation. The only objection is that it puts the chain store out of business and the corner grocer out of business. We may not feel sorry for the chain store but we would for the corner grocery, and the only answer is if the corner grocer is efficient he will not be put out of business but if inefficient he will be put out of business, and despite that, the fundamental principle is so sound that I am not only supporting the bill, but I would be inclined to speak for it.

There are four kinds of co-operatives; the Communistic one is a selling co-operative instituted by 26 leaders back in 1844, and no matter how many shares you own, you have only one vote. The store sells for cash and at the end of the year there are dividends. The other objection, which is perhaps more vital, is that we are granting priviliges, special privileges to these co-operatives. We have all been brought up, I think, on the slogan "equal justice to all, special privileges to none," and that is a very sound theory, but these people are people who have never had any special privileges. They are the unorganized common people and the other people are beginning with the patriarch Noah and his family had there. They saved lives in a flood and they were the first examples of our flood relief, and then in our country whenever we had high tariff laws enacted, that was a further case of special privileges, special building and loan association privileges, and now an organized labor special privilege. I am in favor of that doctrine, although it may be imperfect. We have many special privileges and I am saying that while the doctrine may be imperfect, it is about the turn of the common people to have special privilege, and let them have it. It is a nonprofit co-operative which is a very original method of getting what we hear so much about, Facism, Communism and all the other isms.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I have enjoyed the remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia and his comments in giving this bill his approval, but I feel that in view of the remarks that I heard last week that there is ample room for improvement in the minor details and in some of the more important ones.

I, therefore, ask unanimous consent to amend title, page 1, line 9, by striking out the word "them" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "consumptive cooperative associations"; amend title, page 1, lines 9 and 10, by striking out the word 'non-profit" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "business"; amend section 5, page 9, lines 7, 8 and 9 by striking out "S6 in the same manner and to the same extent that non-profit corporations may be subject thereto"; amend section 18, page 25, line 15, by inserting after the word 'and" the following: "S and in addition thereto consumptive cooperative associations"; amend section 18, page 25, line 16, by striking out the word "non-profit" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "business"; amend section 18, page 25, lines 17, 18 and 19, by striking out the words 'but shall be exempt from all SC [other] State taxes of whatever kind or nature SC that are not also imposed upon non-profit corporations"; amend section 18, page 25, line 20, by inserting after the word "Such" the following: "consumptive cooperative"; amend section 18, page 25, lines 24 and 25, by striking out the word "non-profit" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "business".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I do not know whether the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. KUNKEL, has any retail stores in his district, but in Lehigh County we have a great many of them, and I want to say to you members of the Senate that I am very jealous of their interests. Retailers form the backbone of our community. I might answer some of the arguments of the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, about the group of people who will benefit by grouping themselves together for their own self-preservation. What greater group has the right to self-preservation than our retailers who are the greatest taxpayers in our local communities? He speaks of co-operatives being non-profit corporations. If you will read the bill, you will find it provides that they make a profit of 6%. I am sure the majority of our retailer dealers would be satisfied if they were able to make a profit of 6% at the end of each year. He speaks of these people covered by this bill as unorganized common people. Mr. President, I think this is an insult when you see who these groups of people are; I think in the first class are farmers, in the second class are mechanics and in the third class are laborers. Mr. President, I think this is an insult to the intelligence of the members of the Senate to say that they are people who are unorganized. Now, this bill goes far beyond what the sponsor says it does. It enlarges the field tremendously by adding the provisions of the old act which is worded so that any group of consumers can organize themselves into any conceivable business in competition with our retailers. The objection that I raised against this bill last week was this: that it did not bring these co-operative groups under the jurisdiction of our Public Utilities Commission, a democratic arm of this administration. Certainly, members of the majority party here can place their confidence in that Commission, knowing that they regulate carefully and save such co-operatives, therefore, there is no reason why the sponsor of this bill should be suspicious of the control of the Public Utilities Commission.

The second objection I raised against this bill was the fact that these corporatives are exempt for state taxation. Is there any reason why a cooperative should come into the City of Harrisburg for instance, set up a co-operative group consumers store, and compete with the retailers who are paying the tax, and the co-operative go scot free? Retailers do not object to competition of co-operatives, providing that they co-operate on a just and equitable basis, but the sponsor of this bill cannot maintain that this bill in the face of the unjust and unequal basis as it sets forth. After I made those objections, the Members of the Senate unanimously supported my motion to return this bill to the Committee from which it came for the purpose of correcting those two objections. Tonight we have the facetious result of that Committee's studies. They attempt to correct the title of the act by striking out these words exempting them from state taxation and subjecting them to state taxes imposed on non-profit corporations. We all know that non-profit corporations are not subject to state tax, therefore, the title remains as it was before.

On page 8, of the bill, they made the same facetious attempt where to put control of our Utility Commission. There they say: "Such association shall be exempt in any and all respects from the jurisdiction and control of the Securities Commission and the Public Service Commission of this Commonwealth or similiar bodies hereafter created with like powers and duties to said commissions"; with like powers and duties to the said commission in the same manner and to the same extent that the non-profit corporations may be subject thereto," when everybody in this chamber knows that a non-profit corporation was not subject to public utilities commission.

Mr. President, this is merely a subterfuge, a joker that has been placed in this bill with the idea that it will slip through this Senate, and I, for one, protest against the action by this Committee; and I ask the Members of this Senate that this bill be defeated on the floor of the Senate tonight.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, that this is a good bill, and I have listened very carefully to the remarks of the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Rupp, in his defense of the retail merchants. Unless someone takes care of the chain stores, the retail merchants will soon be a thing of the past. The farmer knows this; he knows that between him, dealing with the chain stores there is one other alternative, and that is to organize the farmers in his particular locality; and the miner realizes it too, and I understand in England the miners and laborers have co-operative associations like the ones contemplated in Senator Kunkel's bill.

This bill provides a method whereby a group of farmers can get together as a family group and operate in competition with the highly organized chain store system, and I believe that is the only way the farmer, the laborer and the miner will have to organize in order to take care of themselves in the future. I am strongly in favor of this bill, and I sincerely hope that it passes.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, the remarks of the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Rupp, on this bill indicate that he is wholly uninformed as to what co-operatives are. He maintains that they are a profit-making organization, and in that respect he is entirely wrong. Co-operatives do not make a profit. The members of co-operatives who advance capital receive a return of 6%. The net earnings of co-operatives are turned back to their patrons. There are no net profits in co-operatives, therefore, we have put them in the class of non-profit corporations, and in so doing we have not resorted to subterfuge, as the Senator from Lehigh charges.

May I call the attention of the Senate to the fact that in the non-profit corporation law of this State there is nothing in there exempting non-profit corporations from taxation. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania could tax non-profit corporations if it saw fit, but it has not seen fit to do so, or it would have so provided in the non-profit corporation law. The Capital Stock Act, which provides for a state tax, specifically exempts agricultural co-operatives; it does not exempt non-profit corporations; it could, but it does not. The Net Income or Net Earnings tax act does not exempt nonprofit corporations ;the Stock Transfer tax act does not exempt non-profit corporations; and it is my opinion that co-operatives would be subject to that tax and also, possibly, to the Corporation Loan Tax Act. So I deny that there is an attempt here to deceive the members of this Senate or to take advantage of any subterfuge by the insertion of these amendments. I maintain these amendments are inserted here in good faith, that they place the co-operatives in a class where they belong, in the non-profit corporation class.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to add to the education of the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Rupp, that the farmers' co-operatives in this country since 1929 have had even more special privileges than described in this bill. In Great Britain there are seven million members of co-operatives. They own tea plantations in Ceylon, they buy wheat from Canada, and they operate steamship lines, but that does not say they have wrecked the private interests in Great Britain.

The second form of co-operatives is the credit union which you have all heard about and admired in Great Britain. After the Midlands Corporation and the Lloyds, it stands fourth in the amount of business that it does.

I hope the Senator from Lehigh will vote for this bill.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this argument, but I should like to inform the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, that when he speaks of co-operatives having existed prior to this Act, he is not speaking of the same co-operatives that he is setting up here—he now speaks of 'consumptive' (I don't know that it is tuberculosis consumptives), but these consumers can start haberdasheries, butcher shops, or any other conceivable form of retail business, and come right into the center of Harrisburg and set up a store in direct competition with other retail stores in that neighborhood. We are not speaking of the same co-operatives that existed prior to this Act, and which he said were known as non-profit co-operatives. These are different co-operatives that he has intended to set up, and he is not talking in the same language that he set down in writing in this bill.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin, inform me as to whether he is making it possible under this setup for a group who happen to be consumers as well as investors to organize a power company and operate at a profit equal or greater than the Public Utilities Commission would otherwise allow them without being subject to the regulation of the Public Utilities Commission.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I cannot imagine that situation arising. There's a companion bill here before the Senate covering that situation, and it seems to me if that idea were in the minds of any group that they would proceed properly under the Rural Electrification Act.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Dauphin if it would be possible under that Act for persons other than members of your co-operatives to patronize these co-operatives.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, the analogies drawn by the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, do not hold, because with your system of farmers' co-operatives, with those who are the members of these co-operatives,—Everybody knows that where there is a kindred interest, that the farmers have worked out, they are well managed for the interest of that group; but here you are launching an experiment, you are doing something that the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, has said worked out well in Europe. If I understand the Senator from Philadelphia correctly, he said that under the existing laws certain co-operatives, at least one of which he is a member, is now being satisfactorily operated. Now it is proposed to us, that we launch into this new field which has been successful in Europe, and give them special privileges over an organized existing business. Now, I know nothing about the conditions in the cities of Harrisburg and Philadelphia, but I do know something about the conditions in the rural sections, in the small communities, and I know that as our Governor has so well said in supporting the Chain Store Tax that the retail merchants in the small communities, have been the back bone of these communities. If under the existing laws co-operatives can be operated at a profit, and we have evidence of this from the Senator from Philadelphia, why do we have to use pinchers on the one hand and on the other hand the chain stores crowding the small merchant? Slowly but surely the state is encouraging co-operatives to squeeze the little fellow out of existence. This little fellow, you may think does not handle a large amount of goods and merchandise to go to the people of Pennsylvania. I am telling you, and I know whereof I speak, that most of the merchandise is still handled by the little man. His aggregate volume is far in excess of the aggregate volume of the so-called big dealers. What we are doing is placing more difficulties in his way. I suppose there is no member in this Senate who has more experience with the so-called little fellow who handles merchandise, than I have, and I tell you that this bill will do more harm to the little fellow in Pennsylvania than any other action we may take. The Chain Store Tax will be nullified; you could raise that maximum tax to $1,000. This bill will strike right at the heart of the little fellow's business, the tax you are taking from him together with what I have seen of these so-called co-operatives groups. Where you have a group of miners, you have a kindred interest and it will work sometimes under the existing laws; and we have a group of farmers, they will get together for a mutual interest and they will work, where you suggest the launching of a European method, and that is what this is, that is where you are going to abolish the American system of distribution that we have. it seems a very competitive system of merchandising. You may now buy where you see fit and from whom you see fit, and I feel that we have an obligation to protect that system, particularly that little fellow who is so defenseless.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, from the remarks of the Senator from Indiana, I take it that the free competitive system is a good system in his opinion.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I most certainly think it is.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, then why does the Senator fear that the retailers are afraid of further competition?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, because they are not put on the same competitive basis. We are giving the cooperatives special privileges, sir, that we do not give the small independent dealer.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, this bill re-enacts and amends a bill fifty years old. I would like to ask the Senator from Indiana, why the retailers did not complain about unfair competitive conditions that existed against them under a law fifty years old.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I have told the Senator from Philadelphia, that under existing laws while no cooperatives can be operated at a profit, I am protesting against giving them special privileges, exemptions from taxation, and so fourth, that are in this bill. I say you are unfair to the group of small business men who cannot defend themselves.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 485 was sent back to the committee several weeks ago for the reason that it was not in proper form and for the purpose of further amendments, and as the bill appears as it does now on the calendar, it is not my desire to kill the bill, for I believe that it can be amended, therefore, Mr. President,

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

I move that Senate Bill No. 485, be referred back to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of further amendments.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I second the motion.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 684, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, with the consent of the sponsor of this bill, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to know the purpose of this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill increases the bonded indebtedness of the City of Philadelphia to 15%. I do not think that the City of Philadelphia should be concerned about being permitted to increase its bonded indebtedness, the difficulty is that the bonded indebtedness is too high. We have been engaged a great deal of time in investigating the financial condition of Philadelphia. I think the first thing that they should try to do is to decrease its expenditures before making a constitutional provision to increase this bonded indebtedness. The real job is to decrease its debt and cut down. This bill should go on the postponed calendar for the additional reason that there is no provision in that particular sense in the article of the Constitution, it might require amendments, and if it can be made in this particular bill to limit the increase of the bonded indebtedness, then we may amend this bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is an amendment to the Constitution separating personal property from real estate as a basis of determining the bonded capacities not only of Philadelphia, but of all the municipalities in the State. Now then, I think nearly all of us can agree that the personal property tax is a bad tax. It is a tax on principal and not interest, and this resolution opens up the way for the repeal of this obnoxious personal property tax. The increase to 15% in Philadelphia is incidental; it was agreed to after many years of consideration. I have been interested in this bill for fourteen years. It has been up before the people twice and voted down twice because the taxes were beyond the 7% allowed under the Constitution, and then when this resolution was being considered I called the attention of the Senators of Allegheny County that their county would be increased from 7% to 10%. We determined that we would not attempt to raise the borrowing limit outside of Allegheny and Philadelphia Counties. Fifteen per cent has always been an accepted figure. We did not want the increase to be defeated again; but the big point is that if you do not vote for this resolution and put it before the people you cannot get rid of the personal property tax, and I, therefore, ask that you vote against the motion to place this bill on the postponed calendar. While the Senator from Philadelphia is better informed on some matters than I am, I claim to be better informed on this matter than he is.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the second reason I object to this bill is that in Philadelphia many people have invested their money in the bonds of the City of Philadelphia upon the consideration of their right to proceed against the security of the personal property tax, so that the persons holding millions of dollars of bonds which have been issued up to the present time have the right to look to the security from the income of personal property. The effect of this Constitutional amendment will be to take away that security to which they looked when they made the investment. We do not think that they should be deprived of that right, and the passage of this amendment subsequently may not effect the prior issue of the bonds, but before we pass such a Constitutional amendment that matter should be investigated more thoroughly than it has been up to the present time, and there is no need for this act at this time as far as Philadelphia is concerned. When the Personal Property Tax is abolished, if it is, there will also be no need for a Constitutional amendment to exclude it from the borrowing capacity, because if there is no tax, it cannot be included in the figures which are in the borrowing capacity.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, knows a good deal about everything and he knows everything about something, but this is an exception. The constitutionality of this measure has been passed on by lawyers whom the Senator from Philadelphia knows, and there is nothing whatever unconstitutional in this matter, and I regret very much to see my colleague doing something which would perpetuate a tax on principal and not on interest. I think we all ought to be for a personal income tax and against a tax on principal.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 695 (House Bill No. 1159), entitiled:

An Act to amend section one thousand six of the act approved the fifteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and twenty-four) entitled "An act relating to the business of banking and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers and of banking corporations with or without fiduciary powers including the conversion of National banks into State banks and for the licensing of private bankers defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such corporations of existing corporations authorized to engage in a banking busness with or without fiduciary powers or private bankers and of the officers directors trustees shareholders attorneys and other employees of all such corporations or private bankers or of affiliated corporations association or persons restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation association or person and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts prothonotaries recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" as amended by providing further with regard to limitations upon loans to one corporation or person

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 735, entitled:

An Act restricting the granting of licenses to marry to divorced persons.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, since my appeals to better reason and my logic have entirely failed, I now appeal to that great democratic heart which beats in every breast.

I here check on the Senate history; it shows that 247 Senate bills have been reported from committee and of these 224 were introduced by Democratic Senators and 23 by Republican Senators. The total bills introduced are as follows:

Democratic measures 380, and Republican measures 39. This is one of the thirty-nine, and, gentlemen, I appeal to your hearts to give me a break.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Chestnut Hill, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Chestnut Hill Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he does not feel that he has had his fair share of the Republican bills reported out.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would say yes, indeed, I acknowledge with gratitude that they were reported out but never passed.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia what is the purpose of this bill and what we are going to gain by its passage.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have two friends who were divorced in Reno and re-married the same day, one in Reno and one in Philadelphia, and I think that is contrary to common decency. When this bill first reached one of my friends, he said that this was too long for the interested parties to wait, and my friend, Senator Buckman, wanted to cut it down to three months and I refused. The bill now reads that they cannot get married before six months after the divorce, and I think that Pennsylvania might raise up to a matter of decency.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I do not feel that this answers my question. What benefit is going to be derived from the passage of this Act?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, well, the people who marry on impulse, if they have to wait six months, the impulse may die out.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, this bill merely prevents the re-marrying of divorced people for a period of six months, as it has been amended. I cannot see why such an Act is necessary. If we have religious scruples, if we think it is not right to re-marry after a divorce is once granted, I cannot see why they want to hold them over for six months. There are certain things that are going to come up in conditions of this kind, for illustration, there is an old saying that "a dog that sucks eggs will suck them again." If this law is passed, there is only one object, and that is this: Suppose a divorcee has become infatuated with a man or woman who has been divorced and is a free lance, they will have that restriction. Suppose they have trespassed and this matter is brought into court, and at that time the man or woman may be in a mood, especially the man may be in that mood to marry the lady and everything is well, this will only set up a period of six months to give that man the right to leave this State and the woman is left in the lurch. I say it is unjust and not right, for if they have their heads set to get married, why hold them off six months? I think it is all wrong and I think that this bill should be turned down.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, in reply to the remarks to the Senator from Clarion, Dr. Kahle, I would like to remind him that the provision in this bill is nothing more than English expected from Mrs. Simpson when she became enamored with the King, and I think that is a pretty fair standard. I am inclined to support the bill of the Senator from Philadelphia.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, may I call the attention of the Senate to the legal phase of this bill? Under the present law, when a man and woman are divorced they may get married immediately, notwithstanding they have three months after the divorce is granted, the law is that the party to that divorce may take an appeal to the Superior Court and in many cases, or at least in some cases, the decree of the Lower Court granting that divorce is reversed, and in case the parties or the party to that divorce got married after the divorce, they find the marriage illegal or bigamous, and I tried to prevail upon the Senator from Philadelphia to amend the bill down from six months to three months, in order that it might fit in with the legal requirements, the time that may elapse before an appeal can be taken. I believe that anything that prevents marriage is against public policy. The policy of our law is to encourage marriage among people who are entitled to get married, and I believe that the Senator having spoken against his bill, as it so often happens, has already defeated it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Bucks, inform me if he is familiar with the fact that under certain conditions divorced parties may not marry for a longer period than six months?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, yes, there are some cases in which they may never marry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, where it is a case of adultery the limitation is at least for one year.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, where the charge is adultery the co-respondent cannot marry during the life time of the respondent.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Senator from Philadelphia, to the fact that this bill may permit marriageable persons who have been divorced on the ground of adultery within a period of six months.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. Presdent, I suggest that he Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, tell him; he will not listen to me.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—32

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Law,	Rupp,
Dando,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Ruth,

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

LABOR RELATIONS BILL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 3, 1937.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Your honorable body now has under consideration the labor relations measure known as the McGinnis bill, sponsored by Senator McGinnis of Allegheny County.

I have given this bill the most careful study, since the Administration and the majority of both Houses stand firmly committed to the principles of unionization and collective bargaining.

Representatives of Industrial interests have protested to me that this bill is too drastic

I have not found that to be the case. I have found, however, that several features of the bill, none of them materially affecting its fundamental purpose, differ from those of the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

As drafted, the McGinnis bill includes not only the essential provisions of the Wagner Act but also the extensions of that act resulting from Labor Board rulings and court decisions, together with several other additional provisions.

After examining the bill, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti has advised me that the safer procedure, in order to assure the constitutionality of this bill, would be to make the amendments necessary to bring the bill strictly in line with the Wagner Act as originally written.

He has pointed out that the McGinnis bill will be obliged to run two gauntlets—of both the State and Federal Constitutions—whereas the Wagner Act was required to conform to the Federal Constitution.

If your honorable body wishes to pass this bill in its present form I shall be happy to sign it and leave legal questions for the courts. However, since the necessary amendments do not in any essential respect change the fundamental character of the bill, but merely eliminate certain additional provisions which might render the whole bill unconstitutional, it has been deemed advisable to insert those amendments.

The bill as amended gives complete and absolute guarantees to labor. The Attorney General has assured me that it will stand the test of constitutionality. It has the support of industry. It has the support of Labor. It has support of the Department of Labor and Industry and of my Administration.

I therefore urge you, in the interest of industrial stability and economic justice, to advance this bill as amended and provide for its final passage as expeditiously as possible.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

BILL PASSED OVER

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2169, (Senate Bill No. 831), entitled:

An Act authorizing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to publish a proposed amendment to Article fourteen of the Constitution to abolish the County of Philadelphia as a municipal corporation separate and distinct from the City of Philadelphia and authorizing and directing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to certify the question and proposed amendment to the county election boards so that the question and amendment shall be voted upon at the municipal election of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask whether there is any member of the House who can explain this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, explain the bill to the gentleman from Delaware?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Senate Bill 831 is really an enabling act which provides that the Secretary of the Commonwealth be authorized to advertise the constitutional amendment which was twice passed by the Legislature for the 1937 general election, so that the people may vote on it and in that way save a year's time, whereby the consolidation of the city and county of Philadelphia may be made possible.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether I understood him right, that this had been voted upon by the people of Philadelphia in the election of 1937.

Mr. OMINSKY. No, Mr. Speaker, I believe I tried to make myself clear that this bill will enable the people of Philadelphia to vote on the consolidation amendment in the election of 1937.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that there is a provision in the Constitution which says that you can only vote upon amendments once in five years?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that I would say that there is such a provision, but the provision is not definite and there is some legal doubt about it.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, has not that provision been interpreted by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to mean that you can only submit amendments to the people for a vote once in every five years?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is correct. It has been so decided in the case of Armstrong versus King.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, then if the Supreme Court has decided that Article XVII, Section 1, which reads, "But no amendment or amendments shall be submitted oftener than once in five years",—if the Supreme Court has interpreted that to mean that you can only submit an amendment every five years, how is an act of the Legislature going to overcome the decision of the Supreme Court which has held for a considerable length of time?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, on legal advice, I understand that the principle of stare decisis does not apply to the intrepretation of constitutional amendments.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think that that might be very true, judging from some of the things which we have seen in the United States Supreme Court recently, but nevertheless while the Supreme Court may decide that it will not follow its previous decisions, how can an act of the Legislature change the decisions of the Supreme Court on a question of this kind, which is an interpretation of the Constitution.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the lengthy question or statement of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner,—

Mr. TURNER. It was a question, not a statement, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say this, that the intent of the Legislature can always be interpreted by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. We feel that the constitutional amendment to provide for the consolidation of the city and county government of Philadelphia is so important because of the saving that we intend to make, that it ought to be submitted a year before the constitutional limitation provides, and we feel that this bill enacted by this Legislature will give the means whereby the Secretary of the Commonwealth can proceed with the advertisement of the constitutional provision so that it can be voted upon in November of 1937. We also feel that if anyone wishes to question this act that the Supreme Court may be asked to interpret the provision of the Constitution before this session is over, so that we may get an interpretation, or, let us say, a reinterpretation of the provision of the Constitution to which the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, has alluded.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the bill which is now before the House is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. This being a constitutional point of order, raised by the gentleman from Delaware, the Chair submits the question to the House. The Chair lays before the House the constitutional point of order raised by the gentleman from Delaware.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the point of order on the constitutionality of the bill?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York will state his point of order.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the rule requires that the raising of a constitutional question be in writing, signed by five members.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is not well taken and wishes to read Rule 4 of the House which is as follows:

"He shall decide all questions of order. An appeal from his decision shall be made by two members, or the Speaker may, in the first instance, submit the question to the House. All questions of order involving the determination of constitutional law shall be submitted to the House on the request of five members."

In this instance the Speaker is referring the question to the members of the House.

"The constitutionality of a bill is a question for the House itself to determine and not for the Speaker to decide." Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, vol. 1, chapter 4, page 99, says:

"All the decisions for the construction of the Constitution must be made by the body upon whom the duty is imposed, or from whom the act is required."

For this reason the Speaker has submitted the question to the House.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the Chair advise the House when a situation will arise that necessitates the question of constitutionality being raised in writing and by the signature of five members?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the Chair can rule upon a constitutional point of order raised by any member of the House, but in case five members submit the question the Chair has no alternative except to submit it to the House. The Chair believes that it is a question that should be decided by the House in every instance.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in my humble legal mind there is clearly no doubt as to the constitutionality of this act. As I understand, the decisions interpreting the language of the Article of the Constitution which is now being questioned, are to the effect that amendments can be submitted to the Constitution but once in five years. That particular Article of the Constitution is susceptible to two interpretations, one interpretation being the interpretation at which the Supreme Court arrives, and the second interpretation being that the same amendment can not be submitted more than once in five years. The effect of the present Supreme Court interpretation as to the applicability of the Article of the Constitution in question has resulted in what is commonly known as the "time lock provision" of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. That time lock provision has hampered the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the exercise of its franchise of government to such an extent and beyond any need that the Constitutional Convention of 1874 considered. A more liberal interpretation and an interpretation which is more fitting to our present economic and social needs would be one that would restrict the voting on constitutional amendments more than once every five years, where those amendments are identical to amendments which have been voted on at a previous election. To allow the time lock provision to remain is to hamper the function of government. We in this House have already passed resolutions to amend the Constitution to obviate the time lock. However, the liberal thought feels that since the rule of stare decisis does not apply to the interpretation of Constitutional amendments, that this question can be raised de novo, and by the enactment of this particular constitutional amendment we feel that the Supreme Court will liberalize the rather reactionary conclusion to which they arrived previously, and give to the people of the Commonwealth an apportunity to have a Constitution susceptible to amendments each and every year as long as the same amendment is not introduced more than once in five years. There is no doubt in my mind that that is the conclusion to which the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will arrive and I say to the members of this House that the bill upon which we are voting is just as sound constitutionally as any of the measures which we have passed this session.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is rather amusing to note that whenever there is any question involving the Constitution or any legal impediment in the way of those who desire to find short cuts to the accomplishment of their purpose, that they can always find ways to bring into the argument questions of liberal interpretation and reactionary interpretation of the courts or the construction of legislation.

Now, I do not like to say that I do not believe my friend on the other side, but I have too much respect for his legal attainments to believe that he sincerely feels that this act is constitutional. We have sat here in this House year in and year out and we have put through amendments and we have figured the time when they could be acted upon by the people under the construction of the Constitution, which the Supreme Court has placed upon it in a number of decisions, and which has been the rule of law of this Commonwealth for a great number of years. The question is not a question of the construction of the Constitution of the gentleman from York, nor of myself. This section of the Constitution says: "But no amendment or amendments shall be submitted oftener than once in five years." The Supreme Court has consistently held, and both the Administrative and Legislative authorities of the state have acceded to the construction of that section of the Constitution by the Supreme Court to mean that you may only submit amendments to the Constitution every five years. If the gentleman from York were correct in his surmise, why then do we not pass through and submit an amendment to the people providing for an income tax? Why did we not in 1933 and in 1935, as the gentleman from York has said, have an amendment to the Constitution submitted to the Legislature, passing this House, providing for a change in the Constitution to take off what is commonly termed the time lock? Whether that time lock is wrong, or whether it is right that we should submit them every year or once in five years, is not the question before the House and is not the question before this Legislature. The pure question here is, what does the Constitution say and what has the Supreme Court said thereon? While it is true that the Supreme Court has at times, both in the state and in the nation, changed its decisions, there has always been some reason ascribed by the Supreme Court, but I can see no way by which they can alter or change the clear intent and the clear meaning of their decisions in the past in this instance.

I think we all understand that the people of Philadelphia are anxious to consolidate the city and county government. I think that the Republicans on this side of the House, as well as the Democrats on the other side of the House, have been in favor of that consolidation, but the real question here before us is this: Are we going to abide by the Constitution, or are we because of some specious necessity as it is raised in the minds of the people who particularly want this thing, are we in that instance going to waive aside the Supreme Court and what they have said is the real intent of this article of the Constitution, and to say in this particular instance that we are going to advertise this year and we are going to go ahead. If the gentleman from York is right in his interpretation, if the gentlemen on the other side of the House are so sincere in their belief that this time lock provision does not hold good in this case, then they do not need this piece of legislation. The Secretary of the Commonwealth should then advertise this measure for submission to the people of the state of Pennsylvania for an amendment to the Constitution, but to come here with a bill which the gentleman must clearly admit has been declared in the past unconstitutional, and now to say that an emergency exists, and that the Supreme Court will turn about-face on all its decisions in the past in the interpretation of this section of the Constitution, and to say now that because it is necessary to hustle this through we are going to forget about all the other amendments to the Constitution that were held back and we are now holding back, that in Philadelphia that cannot be voted upon until 1938, and say that it is constitutional is something beyond the belief not only of any lawyer in this House but I think the laymen in this House themselves can readily understand the issue and the problem that is being presented here. I have no particular reason to oppose this measure, as to the intent of the measure itself, but I cannot stand here as a member of the Legislature and permit these proceedings which continually seek to find short cuts, which continually seek to change the whole procedure in the state, which continually seek to change ordinary custom and decisions of the courts in order to accomplish some particular specious piece of Legislation which they desire, without raising this question and I ask the members of the House to vote to sustain my point or order.

On the question recurring,

Will the House sustain the point of order on the constitutionality of the bill?

So the question was determined in the negative and the point of order was not sustained.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, so that there won't be any question at all about our attitude on this particular bill, may I point out that we have already voted twice on this particulay resolution and voted to pass it. In addition, we have at this session passed an act which provides for the appointment of a commission to study the submission of a new charter. Ten members have already been appointed. The only ones who have not been appointed are the members of the General Assembly. That committee cannot report to the Legislature before the 1939 Session. I frankly do not understand the reason for such precipitous action as this. You from Philadelphia who have read the newspapers and have read the literature from various civic organizations know that everybody is frankly puzzled over this plan to submit a constitutional amendment this year, when it has been clearly recognized that such an act would be unconstitutional. We are in favor of the city-county merger, but we are for it in a proper and legal fashion. There is no sense of going to all the trouble of passing proposed amendments and what not unless they are going to be done in the proper manner. I cannot see where this amendment will be of any possible benefit to the people of Philadelphia before the first of January, 1940. Why are we taking this action now? Why are we taking a step in direct defiance of the decisions of the Supreme Court upon the Constitution? Why don't we let it take an orderly course and submit it either next year or in 1939? The idea appears to be that we will have a city and county merger, that we will have a new charter, as they go hand in hand. I think it would be an outrageous situation if we should take some steps which would embarrass that charter and also possibly embarrass the city-county merger, which we are all for. I would like to appeal to the House to protect the people of Philadelphia who really want a city-county merger, and I ask you not to take some precipitous action which might possibly ruin something that we all want.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it had not been my intention to speak again on this particular measure because the question of legality has already been decided by this House, but I feel in fairness to the measure as well as to those who are interested in this bill, as well as in the City Charter Commission,—I feel that this bill is necessary to the work of the City Charter Commission of the City of Philadelphia. We feel that both of those provisions go hand in hand. We feel that if we pass this bill and it is made possible for the people of Philadelphia to vote on the Constitutional amendment merging the city and county, it will make it much easier for the City Charter Commission to function, and if the City Charter Commission will be ready before 1939, we feel that the Legislature will take steps to enact the measure into law by that time.

I just wish to point out one more situation which has not been brought up thus far. Much has been said about the five year time lock on constitutional limitations. May I say this, that the Constitution of Pennsylvania has been amended on different occasions oftener than once in five years. If you will look at your constitutional amendments you will note that in 1909 a Constitutional amendment was voted upon and enacted into law; that in 1911, 1913, 1915, 1918, 1920, and 1923, in all these years the Legislature passed Constitutional amendments which were submitted to the people of Pennsylvania, were voted upon and never questioned until the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Armstrong vs. King. May I say this, as far as the interpretation of the Constitution by the Supreme Court is concerned, that if the Supreme Court of the United States can change its attitude on the constitutionality of any bill or any measure, if recently the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has changed its attitude on another measure which the Legislation had passed, I feel certain that if they use the rule of reason in this particular case they cannot do anything but declare this act constitutional and reverse itself on the prior decisions of that court. Therefore, I ask the members of the House to vote "aye" on this measure.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OMINSKY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if I understood him correctly in stating that there would be a special session prior to 1939 and the Charter Commission might report at that time and enact a new charter. Is that correct?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia, I wish to say that I did not say that there will be a special session. I said that if it would be made possible and necessary in the other workings of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that there would be a special session, this question will be submitted at the time prior to 1939.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, when the gentleman says that the question will be submitted, does he mean a new charter?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, a new charter as well as the consolidation proposition of the city and county of Philadelphia.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if the new charter would be effective before January 1, 1940?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr Speaker, that is something that I cannot say at this time. It will depend on the recommendation of the City Charter Commission.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr Speaker, unless the charter was to be effective before January 1, 1940, may I ask what would be the advantage in the Commission reporting earlier than the 1939 session?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, if the Commission in its wisdom will feel that the city charter should be submitted and become effective before 1940. I believe that the Legislation will take the recommendation of the City Charter Commission.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 2011, Printer's No. 649, on page 26 of today's calendar, bill on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. VAN SICKLE.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 2011, entitled:

An Act authorizing certain persons to bring suit against the Commonwealth to recover wages and compensation due for certain work performed on state highways and imposing liability on the Commonwealth therefor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO LAY BILL ON TABLE

Mr. GORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I second the request for a roll call.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. GORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion to lay the bill upon the table.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Van Sickle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAN SICKLE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker I would like to ask the gentleman from Northampton, as I have some clients who are much interested in this bill, what form of action these poor people would bring to recover their money.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question propounded by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, I would say that I am sure that in Northampton County we have lawyers enough to determine on the proper form of action to be brought.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker I should like to know from the gentleman what action could be brought so that I can inform my clients.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, although I feel that I should have a retainer because all information is worth that which is paid for it and keeping that in mind, I would answer that quantum meruit on an assumpsit basis would be the proper action.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker I should like to ask the gentleman whether or not quantum meruit is a contractual action.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker it is contractual in nature but it may be implied.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker does the gentleman from Northampton think that the Legislature can imply a contractual action.

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker may I call the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny to Section 2 of the act which says, "Such suits shall be subject to the same rules of practice pleading and evidence as in other and similar cases between individuals." In other words it will be up to the county courts to decide whether or not these people have a proper case.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, House Bill 2011 simply does this: It gives the right to people who have performed work for the Highway Department of the state of Pennsylvania and who have never received any compensation for that work to bring suit against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in order to establish their claims. Under the law and under the rules of evidence it will be necessary for them to make out a case showing the liability of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I am sure that every member of this House feels that if the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania owes money they should pay that money the same as any individual, and all this bill does is simply to give the people an opportunity of going into court in an effort to secure their just claims, and I ask the members of this House to vote for the bill.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know that the gentleman from Northampton was fearful of alienating some Republican votes that he might possibly have gotten for this bill. So he hesitated to say that these obligations arose under the Pinchot Administration.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine Section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth Article thereof

That Article nine Section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8 The debt of any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district except as provided herein and in section fifteen of this article shall never exceed ten (10) per centum upon the average assessed value of the taxable realty therein for the nine years immediately preceding the time any debt is incurred or increased and the debt of the city and county of Philadelphia shall never exceed fifteen (15) per centum upon the average annual assessed value of the taxable realty therein for the nine years immediately preceding the time any debt is incurred or increased nor shall any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such average annual assessed valuation of taxable realty for the nine immediately preceding years without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law

In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the city and county of Philadelphia at any time there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said city and county as shall have been incurred or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended or about to be expended upon any public improvement or in the construction purchase or condemnation of any public utility or part thereof or facility therefor to the extent that such public improvement or public utility or part thereof whether separately or in connection with any public improvement or public utility or part thereof may yield or may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges thereon

The method of determining such amount so to be deducted may be prescribed by the General Assembly

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city and county of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from date thereof with provision for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity the payment to such sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city and county of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvement of public works or utilities of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city and county or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city and county such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking fund charges [securing] accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred but not in excess of five years from the time of the incurring of such indebtedness and said city and county shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking fund charges as required by Section ten Article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work Provided however that any city county borough township or other municipality or incorporated district may with the consent of the electors thereof increase its indebtedness to the extent of three (3) per centum over and beyond any limitation fixed herein toward the sole purpose of constructing or completing sewage treatment works

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Skale.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SKALE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia first of all if this proposed amendment to the Constitution would not be state-wide in its application.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia I would say that it is.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker insofar as it refers to the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia and aside from the extra three percent for the construction and building of sewage treatment works, would it increase or decrease the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia I would say that it would not exceed the present indebtedness, that at the present time under the figures submitted to me for the year 1936 and for the year 1937 it would give the city of Philadelphia a greater borrowing capacity but would not exceed the present city indebtedness.

Mr. McDEVITT. In other words, Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to state that the figure would be approximately the same as the present debt.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker, no, it would be considerably less than the present indebtedness. In other words, the present indebtedness of the city of Philadelphia would be about a hundred and twelve million dollars in excess of the borrowing capacity under this proposed amendment.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker what is the reason for the limitation if we already over-borrowed?

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker the reason for it is this, this bill provides for a basic valuation over a period of the nine preceeding years' average and the purpose of it is this: It provides that during the peak years of prosperity when valuations are much higher and when building construction moves along on its own impetus and employment is at its peak, then the city does not have to borrow money for public works but when the period of depression comes along and public works are required for the purpose of producing employment, this would give the city the opportunity to borrow money for such a purpose.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker I would like to ask the gentleman also if the purpose of the provision on the last page of the bill which would permit an excess of three percent over and beyond the limitation fixed therein for the sole purpose of constructing and building sewage treatment works is not for the purpose of permitting the city to make these necessary improvements and for the purpose of giving it this excess three percent borrowing capacity.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker the purpose, of course, is clearly stated in the bill, but it can only be done with the approval of the electorate.

Mr. McDEVITT. Notwithstanding that, Mr. Speaker, is not the provision useless insofar as the city of Philadelphia is concerned if the city is already over-borrowed as far as the provisions of this proposed amendment are concerned.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker this bill being state-wide the situation is practically the same in most of the counties throughout the state of Pennsylvania, but we hope that under the provisions of this bill that the time will arrive much sooner when the cities and counties will be able to take advantage of the propositions in this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Patterson.

The Chair now yields to his counsel, the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Patterson.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman how it feels to be fifty years old today.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Patterson, yields to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Perry.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker in answer to the interrogation of the gentleman from York, Mr. Patterson has asked me to advise the members of the House that he has found the first forty-nine years the hardest but that he has hopes for the next thirty.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I sincerely regret that the gold pass which friends of Mr. Patterson sent over was not quite in order. It was understood that this pass should be for the man from Allegheny County, but it said that he was over fifty years of age. I told them that that was incorrect, but they said they noticed his youthful appearance and they thought it was all right. I sent it back and they said it would be here again tomorrow. It is a gold and diamond studded for the champion good fellow of his age. I can only say, Mr. Speaker, that I felicitate the gentleman from Washington and hope when I get to be fifty years of age,— I hope if I ever become fifty years of age again— I mean if I look to be fifty—that is if I look like Cliff Patterson, or if I were fifty—Oh Heck.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the report?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask if this conference report is noted on the calendar?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the report is not noted on the calendar.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, under Rule 21 of the Senate this report cannot be voted upon unless it is on the calendar.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has already said that while Rule 21 requires the report to appear on the calendar, it has not been the practice heretofore, at least during my term, to spread the conference reports on the calendar, notwithstanding that in the rule it is so provided.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21 be suspended in connection with voting on this conference report.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, perhaps I can save the time of the Senate by withdrawing my motion, but I desire to serve notice that hereafter we would like to have all conference reports noted on the calendar. I ask that the Senator from Philadelphia briefly explain the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is an Act dealing with credit unions. The bill passed the House and then the Senate amendments were inserted restoring the bill to its original form permitting credit unions to be formed by fraternal organizations. The original purpose of the bill was to bring a law into Pennsylvania in conformity with the Federal Credit Union Law. The two amendments were, first, to strike from the Act the provision of the bill permitting credit unions to be formed by fraternal organizations, and, secondly to give credit on account of interest paid in advance on loans the payment of which was anticipated. The House refused to concur in those amendments, and a conference committee agreed and submitted the report that is now before the Senate for action, eliminating amendments dealing with a refund of interest paid in advance, but sustaining the amendment prohibiting the formation of credit unions made by fraternal organizations. This report is before the Senate at this time.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I have listened to the explanation of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, part of it I heard and part of it I did not hear, but I think it is high time that we members of the Senate know what we are voting on. We have rules in the Senate and these rules are there to be lived up to and we are supposed to live up to them. The rules either represent what they are supposed to represent or they represent nothing. This is either a Legislative body ruled by rules and regulations, or it is a wild, unruly, trammeled institution that means nothing. Every man in this Senate should know every word in every bill that comes to this Senate, and we ought to know what we are voting on unless we do not care why we are here.

Now, I do not believe there are two men, or more than a half dozen men here who know what this bill is about, but there is one thing certain that the Senate and the House did not agree on this bill. There were differences of opinion, and then this conference committee gets together and tries to patch up that difficulty. We do not know whether the conference committee patched it up as we may want it, and I think that it is fair to every member of the Senate that these bills be put on the calendar in order that a man might know what he is voting upon. I dare say that out of the fifty men here there are not five men who have voted on this bill know exactly what they are voting on. It is unfair to the Senate and it is unfair to the people of Pennsylvania for a man to stand here and vote on something when he does not know what it is all about. We either ought to have rules, or there ought to be some one who will get up and make a motion to abolish the rules and let it be a free for all bar-room fight.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair inform the members of the Senate that the conference reports are printed and were on the desks of the Senators before voting. They were not spread on the calendar nor noted on the calendar for the simple reason that in my memory the Republican majority has at all times suspended the rule — they were never spread on the calendar and we were following the same procedure yesterday as was outlined by the Republican majority for many years. Now, it is up to the Senate, if they want to spread these conference reports on the calendar in the winding up days of this session, the only things that you will have on the calendar are the conference reports and amendments, and the Chair rules that these reports be put on the calendar unless the Senate rules be suspended.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I agree with the statement of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, that the Senators ought to read bills before they vote on them but I would like to call the attention of the Senator to the fact that he has raised the question too late. This bill was passed by the Senate and voted on three times; it was before the Senate on three separate occasions on the calendar and has been in the files for more than two or three weeks, and the conference report has been on the desks of the Senators for at least two days. The only difference in the bill in its present form and at the time it was voted on first, second and third readings, is in the matter of the conference committee's report and that was the one striking out the provision which allowed a reduction in the amount of interest anticipated in the payment. Therefore, if the Senator has not read the bill, and only five of them have read the bill, the crime of the other 44 or 45 Senators was committed last week, and I suggest that the punishment be dealt accordingly, and at this time we proceed to adopt the report of the Committee of Conference.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, this bill as it is presented to the members of the Senate today in the conference report is a brand new bill, it is not a bill that was on the calendar here, it is not a bill that was on the calendar in the House, it is a brand new bill, and if the conference report changes it, we have a right to know what it is. I do not question the statement of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that he is telling us what is in the bill, but we ought not to be obliged to depend on the statement of any one man, we ought to know what is in the bill, and if it is a bill of great importance we ought to have an opportunity to know what we are voting on. Whether somebody made a mistake before, or did something that was wrong, that does not alter the question that I am interested in, because of yesterday do not make mistakes of today right.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not want to delay the argument, but I want to refer to the statement that the Chair made a few moments ago that it has been the custom of the Republican majority in this Senate to act on conference committee reports without their being on the calendar. I speak with twenty-eight years' experience here, and only at the very end of the sessions was this Rule 21 suspended in order that the conference committee reports might be considered without having them noted on the calendar, and this was not the custom, but there were exceptions to it, of course, but in each case if the record in the Journal were looked up it would be found that in the closing days of the session, on some very special occasions, the Rule was suspended, but it has been the custom to note the reports on the calendar.

The PRESIDENT. That conforms with the statement of the Chair.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the report?

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, The bill as originally introduced — and I am informed it is an Administration bill — is modeled after the one which the Rural Electrification Authority in Washington has set up as a standard for the various states throughout the country. It permits the organization of nonprofit cooperative associations for rural electrification anywhere in Pennsylvania. Under the original bill, the electrification of the farms in our State approaches, a reality, and the social and economic advantages of low electric rates are placed within the reach of our farmers.

5. An amendment, however, has been inserted which destroys these possibilities. It is a "joker" perpetrated on an unsuspecting rural population. Under this amendment, where the electric company has built a pole line in any rural area, the farmers in that area are not permitted to organize a co-operative association to obtain low electric rates. In other words, although an electric company charges prohibitive rates for service from a line which it may have erected in a given rural area, the amendment prevents the farmers in that area from organizing a co-operative to obtain reasonable rates for the electrification of their farms. I have abundant evidence that many utilities are rushing the completion of so-called "spite" lines in order to frustrate the original purpose of the bill. And most of these lines are of such flimsy construction that they could hardly supply the requirements of more than a few customers.

6. A few weeks ago, John M. Carmody, dynamic chief of the federal R.E.A., who succeeded Morris L. Cooke, in dedicating a co-operative power project at Bradford, Pennsylvania, publicly assailed the Associated Gas & Electric Company for building 100 miles of spite lines in this State to prevent the farmers from organizing to obtain cheap electricity for their farms.

7. Under the Rural Electrification Act of 1936, the R. E. A. is permitted to loan money to co-operatives in those rural areas only which are not receiving central station service. The public utilities throughout the country immediately saw the "joker" in this Act and feverishly commenced to erect spite lines in regions where R. E. A. co-operatives were in the process of formation, thereby technically preventing the R. E. A. from lending financial aid. The result has been that the farmers were unable to organize co-operatives to obtain low-priced current for electrification purposes, nor could they afford the exorbitant rates charged by the private utilities. They were, in a word, stalemated. However, Senator McNary, of Oregon, recently introduced a bill in Congress designed to overcome this difficulty. According to Senator McNary's bill, the passage of which seems assured, the R. E. A. may make loans to co-operatives even though there are private utility lines erected in the area. John Carmody, R. E. A. Administrator, has wholeheartedly endorsed the McNary amendment to the Rural Electrification Act.

8. It should be observed that Senate Bill No. 771 permits a co-operative to borrow money from any agency, and not alone the R. E. A. Therefore, if the co-operatives in Pennsylvania are organized in accordance with the provisions of the original, unamended Senate bill, and money is not obtainable from the R. E. A., they will still be free to borrow money from other sources.

9. It is of utmost importance that the farmers in our State be allowed to form co-operatives wherever they deem necessary and essential for the complete enjoyment of the social and economic advantages of low electric rates.

I, therefore, feel that the amendment on page 3, lines 9 to 15, be stricken out.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Utilities for the purpose of further amendment.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, this bill has been on the calendar several times. It is a bill that provides for the formation of cooperatives for the purpose of electrifying small rural areas. The time is coming when this Senate is going to adjourn, and I feel that if this bill goes back into committee and is amended, and comes back on the floor and is discussed again on the floor and perhaps held up as it has been for some considerable time over proposed amendments and other things, we will get no law at all on this very important subject so I feel that we should vote on this bill today and pass in its present form, and then if anyone wants to offer amendments, there is plenty of time when it gets to the House, and we will not loose the purpose, the real purpose and effect of this bill. I sincerely hope that the members of this Senate will not agree to send this very important bill back to the committee from which it might never return at this session.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to recommit.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. The motion to recommit the bill is withdrawn.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I cannot help but feel that the amendments concerning which the Senator from Philadelphia has spoken are very important to the satisfactory operation of this bill, in many rural areas, in fact in most rural areas, because the general service line is not comparative with the cost of the original service line, and the method of accounting and financing the construction of the service lines to the individual consumer has been a method by which many utility companies, and particularly the one that the Senator refers to, namely, the Associated Gas & Electric Company, has used for years to hamper the satisfactory construction of electrical facilities to rural consumers.

I think it is important that the amendments be stricken from this bill and for that purpose, I move that the vote by which the bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I think this motion should not prevail. We are trying to put through a bill here that has been talked about for several years throughout Pennsylvania. It gives the rural people a chance against the big utilities, and, of course, we cannot pass a bill the first time we have it here that will be satisfactory to everybody. This bill meets with the approval, might I say, of the Administration, which is backing the bill, and it will not go through the Senate if we eliminate all of these amendments. In other words, the motion has the effect of killing the bill precisely the same as the motion of the Senator of Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan would have had, and would have effected the killing of the bill. I think the Senate should support the bill for the reason that we are doing the best we can do with it. We will have future sessions of the Senate, and if necessary to modify the bill, let us do it at that time, but at this time we already have a good substantial bill and we can work under it. I hope the Senate defeats this motion.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, as far as this bill in its present shape is concerned, the bill might just as well be defeated, as to pass the bill in this form it would represent no substantial improvement over the legislation that was passed two years ago. These amendments are exactly the controversy raised two years ago and if this bill passes in its amended form, the service to the rural electric consumer is not in any great way aided or abetted. If we want to pass a rural electrification bill that is going to be of some service to the consumer, I say let us pass that bill. If we do not want to pass a bill that is of service to the rural consumer let us not pass a bill. Let us not pass a smoke screen piece of legislation such as this bill is in its present form.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator state whether or not it is true that when we voted on this bill in committee, it was intended to be a bill which would give the rural districts with a population in excess of twenty-five hundred the right to establish cooperative service for electrification of the community where no satisfactory service existed? Will the Senator state whether or not it is true that by amendments it does not depend upon the population, but upon whether or not there is electrification or electricity furnished in that district?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, what I think the Administration is trying to do in this connection is to give the farmers or people who do not have the privileges of electricity those privileges. Now, they do not care whether they get that from the utility or whether they get it through cooperatives; what they want is service.

Now, I have here a little magazine showing some of the Federal Rural Electrification activities, and I notice that in looking at the map of the United States, including the great State of Pennsylvania, there are very few districts where we have co-operatives serving the people of Pennsylvania, and I know that we have thousands and thousands of districts where the farmer gets no electric service at all. Now, can anyone stand up in this Senate and say that this bill will not take care of those districts? True, there may be many districts in Pennsylvania where lines are running along the highway where there is another electric line in that district, but I say there are hundreds of districts where there is no service at all, and we can surely take care of those vast numbers of districts where the farmers have no electric service, under this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, will the Senator from Washington state whether or not there is anything in the bill in its original form about electric companies furnishing or installing lines to serve electricity in the very rural communities about which he is talking.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, there were amendments to include almost every community.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I mean in the original form of the bill. Is it not true that a company could, notwithstanding the passage of this law set up a line or lines to furnish electricity even if they had their own lines?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, and the bill as it is amended now, is it not true that the rural district itself cannot furnish electrification by cooperative service under the amendments?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it seems to me that this is a piece of legislation setting back the interests of the people to the advantage of the utility companies and it should be stopped. We passed bills this morning about credit unions allowing the borrowing of money by co-operative methods, and that is just what it means. We had a bill on the calendar last night allowing them to purchase through cooperative methods and we have had various forms of cooperatives which have received approval of the Legislature. Now, in communities where electrification is not furnished satisfactorily, I cannot see any reason why the communities should not be permitted to get together and procure capital with which they can furnish themselves money to build a plant to suit their needs for electrification, and if other companies have power and want to compete, they can do so. If the bill in its original form did not prevent another company from coming in and on a fair basis could compete with the cooperatives established by the community, then there was no reason why the bill should be amended so that the community itself is prohibited from receiving better service if it can get it from the company that comes in, under the terms of this bill, whether or not the service is satisfactory, a rural community cannot establish electrification through cooperatives, if another company has come in since this bill was introduced, or after its passage, and gives service, irrespective of the kind or character of that service. I am constrained to agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, that the very purpose of this bill is defeated by the amendments. I might have occasion to give more consideration to the bill if in drawing the amendments there had been included the words modified by the adjective "satisfactory" service, but the way it is drawn today, that question is to furnish service to 300 or 400 people of the kind which they deem is satisfactory to themselves, and cooperative service would be prohibitive, and just because I think it is, because of that I intend to vote for this bill. If this bill would be placed on the calendar in such a manner that it can be amended and restored to its original position, because when we originally discussed the bill in the Senate, we were all in favor of the bill because it gave the very thing they want in rural communities. I am not representing physically any rural communities, but I am interested as a Senator representing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I am interested in the kind of legislation that benefits a community. I do not want to vote for legislation that is merely a gesture, because that is all this bill would do in its present form.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Washington state whether he feels that the Public Utilities Commission of Pennsylvania, has the power to compel those furnishing electric service to furnish service satisfactorily to the Commission.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, in view of that statement and of the fact that the purpose is primarily to bring electric power and light to the communities that do not have it, I think we would make a mistake in changing this Act from its present form. We have recently taken over the office staff of the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission and substituted therefor the Public Utilities Commission, which is organized and working in the interests of the people of Pennsylvania, and I think we can safely leave to that Commission to question of the standard of service in communities where there are utilities now operating, and for that reason I think we should beat this bill and its real purpose of giving electric service to communities which do not have it. For that reason I think we all should go along with the bill in its present form.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Mercer, that we have a Public Utilities now in which we have faith. We must also realize now that certain sections of Pennsylvania have lines already built and they were built with somebody's money; I may say the 'widow,' if you want to use the word 'widow;' anyway they are built and they are in control of the Public Utilities Commission, and I say to you that we ought to be very reluctant to give any other fellow cooperatives or any other company the right to go in and build another line along that highway or street, or wherever it is located. If we did not have a Public Utilities Commission to take charge and insist that they give adequate service wherever they have lines — and surely that power is in the Commission — especially under the new bill they would have the right to see that the people get the service as already provided for and will have when No. 851 goes through and especially with our new Commission, and I say to you that we ought to be a little wary about allowing cooperatives to run lines along the same highways where there are other lines, and not only that, but not to enter business, and I say to you Mr. President, that this is a great step forward. It provides for service in communities where they do not now have service, and this service if it is properly controlled and regulated, I say to you that we should not meddle in that field.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, if what the Senator from Mercer Mr. Law, and the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis say is true, that is exactly why the bill should be amended before it passes the Legislature, for under the terms of this bill as it now stands there is absolutely no discretion vested in the Utility Commission in connection with this matter.

The bill says very flat footedly that rural areas shall not be considered as included in the area in which the Public Utility Company is furnishing service. That word 'area' may mean anything or it may mean nothing but if we are going to allow the rural citizens to organize any where they can get electrical service, why do not we do it whole-heartedly, and why must we be so tender about the rights of these Utility Companies?

Only two years ago this was exactly the thing that our Democratic minority in this Senate was fighting for. Now we oppose exactly the same thing we fought for two years ago, and in spite of that we do not want to give this rural electrification whole-heartedly, we want to put them in such shape that the rural consumer can get the actual benefit of it and that he is not hamstrung by a lot of nebulous provisions and exclusions which take the teeth and the real claw out of this piece of legislation.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I do not know if anyone on the Republican side of this Senate should get into this family quarrel among our Democratic brethren as to whether this Administration is or is not standing for the rights of the common people. Apparently both Senators from Philadelphia seem to think that this Administration bill is not doing what they believe should be done. However, I want to say that I have had some experience with rural cooperative organizations, and I am interested in what our Democratic friends believe their Administration is, as I am as to what will be the effect in getting electric lights. I agree thoroughly with the Senator from Washington, who is the sponsor of this bill and in whom I am putting a great deal of confidence that what the rural people of Pennsylvania want is not to get into competition with other companies, but an opportunity to have light and power. Where private capital has already set up an organization in any field, it has been my experience that it is a very expensive proposition for those representing the rural or country people to go into competition with them. There are a great many fields in Pennsylvania, as the Senator from Washington has said, at the present time, which are not enjoying the opportunity to get power and light from companies. This bill as it is written at the present time will give them that power if they have the initiative to organize a company, and I want to say that it is no small task to get them to subscribe to that enterprise. It happens that I have had experience with rural telephone company which covers a large area, the larger part of two counties, and had it not been for the intiative of one man who made it his life's work, that company would not be in existence. I know where a company had a battle in an area that was already covered by another existing company, it was making a mistake, and we were in better shape when we simply arranged to make a connection with that company than to attempt to invade its area; and I am inclined to think you will probably get further if you are considering the interest of the farmer and the ruralite, if you have a bill which allows him to go into a territory that at the present time does not give him any facilities for getting light and power.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON and Mr. KUNKEL and were as follows, viz:

Yeas—12

DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Sipe,
Gilson,	Kilgallen,	Pytko,	Stiefel,
Jacobs,	Kunkel,	Shapiro,	Thompson,

Nays—32

Deitrick,	Homsher,	Owlett,	Sones,
Dent,	Huffman,	Rankin,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Kahle,	Reed,	Wolfenden,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I propose to vote for this bill in its present condition, because I think that any bill is better than no bill under the circumstances, but I want to take this occasion for recording my reasons for voting "aye" on the bill, and in answer to the Senator from Susquehanna, I want to say that I consider it a healthy condition — that is my experience — when there is a family quarrel. I think if there had been a few more family quarrels among the Republicans on the floor of this Senate, and a more open discussion of legislation, the picture would have been somewhat different, at least the political picture, and I hope my colleagues in the Senate here will have many, many more family quarrels of this kind and voice their opinions on bills and express their desire as shown by their attitude that they are not controlled nor bound by any particular views, so that the people of Pennsylvania can hope for better legislation from the Senators whom they send here.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Senator from Philadelphia to the fact that this is the first family quarrel that we have seen; we have heard of family quarrels when they find out really what the Administration wanted.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I am going to vote for the bill in this case, and I wish to re-echo the sentiments of my distinguished friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator at whose suggestion was this amendment restricting the definition of rural area to the utility companies to the detriment of the rural consumers inserted in this bill?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I took it up with a representative of the Rural Electrification Commission, and I also took it up with Senator Huffman, of our own Democratic Party.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I intend to vote "aye" on this bill, in the hope that when the bill gets to the House, this "joker" that we are talking about will be stricken out and the bill restored to its original form.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill knowing exactly what I am voting for, and I am not voting for a 'joker', I am voting for this bill because I do not believe that this Senate or this Legislature should give anybody the right to build a line alongside of a line that we have today, especially when that line is under the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission of Pennsylvania, but, as Senator Reed has said, we have thousands and thousands of acres in Pennsylvania where they do not have lines to them, and I am interested in getting lines out to them and not getting lines built where they already have lines that are giving them light and power.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. — entitled:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and considerationg of Senate Bill No. 906, entitled:

An Act regulating procedure in actions of assumpsit and trespass.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this is purely a lawyer's bill, but I do not believe it is a wise measure to pass. I am informed that it has the endorsement of the Bar Association, but I doubt the wisdom of passing it. It provides that any action of assumpit or trespass may be started without the issuing of a summons. The summons is an ancient writ and is recognized in the legal profession as such, and I believe it is one of the details that should be gone through with. Many people under this act might have a suit brought against them and have no means of knowing it, because they are used to seeing a summons with the great seal of the court attached. This bill permits the starting of a suit with a statement of claim and serving the same together with a rule to answer the pleadings, and if they did not answer the pleadings within a number of days, or by the return day, snap judgment may be taken against them. I hesitate to endorse this measure. I think it should be voted down, or possibly be given further consideration.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I want to add my remarks to the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman. I think this bill in its present form has one very fatal defect and will complicate procedure almost unspeakably, for under the provision of this bill any plaintiff in a civil action could start a suit by the filing of a statement of claim. The law at the present time, and which the bill does not affect, is that a judgment cannot be taken before the return day, but if no writ of summons is issued, not one would have any certainty that a judgment would be taken against the defendant in any one of these actions in assumpit or trespass, and I think we will only be further complicating an already complicated procedure by the passage of this bill.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I am not particulary interested in this bill, it will not change the practice so far as my law is concerned. This bill was handed to me by a representative of the State Bar Association.I think if it were passed, it would simplify the practice, instead of two papers you would just file one which sets forth in detail the suit, and known to lawyers as a statement of claim. I understand that by this bill the practice would be the same as heretofore, that is, you could not take judgment until the return day. This, however, is purely a lawyer's bill and I am not sponsoring it one way or the other. It provides this additional method of filing just a statement of claim which sets forth the cause of action and it leaves that practice just as it was, so that a lawyer can proceed by this method under this bill, by filing a statement of claim, but under the old method it was also necessary to serve a summons, but under this method you file only the statement of claim to start the suit.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, it seems to me that there are some weaknesses in this bill as it is now drawn. It has a good effect for simplification and I think the intention behind it is good, but there are many other things there that should be changed; the return day should be noted on the copy of the statement of claim when it is served upon the defendant, and for that reason.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. President, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further study.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 932 (House Bill No. 185), entitled:

An Act to provide for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas in the twenty-first judicial district

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, there seems to be an epidemic for creating new judgships in Pennsylvania. I have been told that there is no need for another judge in this district, and we all know that the poor taxpayer is overburdened now. Is there anyone here who can tell us whether or not a new law judge is needed in the 21st judicial district?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from that district, Mr. Dando, answer the question?

Mr. DANDO. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn, I have a list here that shows Schuylkill County at the present time has a docket of 357 civil cases standing. At the rate they have been trying cases in Schuylkill County for the past number of years, it will take three and one-half year to clear that docket. We go back to June 25, 1934. At that time we received resolutions from the Bar Association asking for another judge, and up until this time there has been no additional judge appointed, and we deem it necessary to have an additional judge in Schuylkill County.

And the question recurring

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Cavalcante,	Kahle,	McGinnis,	Ruth,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 935 (House Bill No. 1176), entitled:

An Act to amend Article three of the act approved the seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws twenty) entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class' as amended removing the authority of the Superintendent of Police to appoint additional patrolmen at the expense of persons asking such appointment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, the purpose of this bill.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, this bill applies only to the City of Pittsburgh, and its application, therefore, is only local, but it is intended to go deeper than that. In the City of Pittsburgh we have a Department of Public Safety. The head of that department has to do with the fire protection and the police protection. As the law now stands, the Superintendent of Police, upon the request of any private individuals can hire anyone to order policemen, and, Mr. President, in principle I think it is wrong that the authority of our city police there in any way be delegated to private employment. I am voting for this amendment, and I will vote for any bill that would prohibit the employment of any state policemen in private employment, and I am certain that no members of this Assembly would delegate Federal power to any private employment. So far as safeguarding the property in Pittsburgh is concerned, we have never had any trouble, to my knowledge, in guarding our social and proprietary interests, and a bill such as this one giving private employers the mace and the badge of authority is wrong.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Allegheny if at the present time they have largely attended base-ball and foot-ball games in Pittsburgh, and if they do not require policemen at those games, and how are they supplied?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, yes, we have policemen employed there, but I am talking now of the private employers.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, employers of these city policemen?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, Yes.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, would not this place an unnecessary expense on the City of Pittsburgh if this bill passes?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, if it does, the expense should be borne by the parties.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, as I read this bill, in the language on the bottom of page 2, it has nothing whatever to do with furnishing policemen for private industry. It says: "The city recorder may upon any emergency or apprehension of riot or mob take command of the police force and appoint as many special partolmen as he may deem advisable. During their service the special appointees shall possess the powers and perform the duties of regular employes of the department," and so forth.

Now, in case that any special trouble might arise in very many ways, how will the City of Pittsburgh take care of this disorder if they may not appoint special policemen?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, the appointment of policemen is an authority that should not be vested in one man. The Council of the City of Pittsburgh can take care of that. Under the present circumstances the City Recorder is the only person who can appoint policemen. With the elimination of that in the law, the City fathers, the council of Pittsburgh, shall appoint such policemen as may be necessary to cope with any emergency.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, what would happen to us in an emergency if the council were not in session, or out of town?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I can only say, Mr. President, that we could take care of any emergency that may come up. We have had emergencies in the City of Pittsburgh where the state police and the national guard and the deputy sheriffs handled the situation.

In a word, Mr. President, this bill goes directly to this point: Shall the city of Pittsburgh have its policemen obeying two masters? They clearly have two masters now. They are on the premises of private employers getting $5.00 a day, and the other master is their official master, and I think it is wrong in principle and that they should have one master, a master elected by the people of Pittsburgh.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I just call the attention of the Senators to a section of this act which is being deleted in this amendment which makes the specially appointed policemen subject to the orders, rules and regulations of the department, and not to the private employer at all. It seems to me that the suggestion of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, is very pertinent to this discussion, namely, that in case of a sudden emergency, with no council in session, I do not see what the City of Pittsburgh would do.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, no, that objection sounds better than it really is. No emergency ever arises in the city of Pittsburgh, at least no emergency has arisen in my lifetime, and I have lived there all my life, where the city fathers could not take care of it. It seems to me to be wrong to have the policemen dressed in uniforms of our city, wearing the insignia of their office, carrying a mace and bearing arms, and obeying the behest and command of some private citizen. It is all very well for the Senator from Tioga to say that these men are under the discipline of the department. There is no such thing; they are on the premises of a private employer, they come when a private employer says come and go when that employer says go, and that private employer, whether or not there is an emergency or not, they obey the command of that man on whose property they are employed.

And the question recurring?

Will the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agre to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I inquire whether we now have before the Senate the amendments that have just been offered by the Senator from Philadelphia?

The PRESIDENT. Yes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I just want to call the Senate's attention to these amendments to the Chain Store Tax Act. In the first place, the Act now being amended read, before proposing these amendments that an annual license tax "shall be paid into the State Treasury through the Department and credited to the State School Fund and shall be made available for the payment of any appropriations made from time to time to the Department of Public Instruction for payment to school districts of the fourth class, * * *.

Now that is all amended: First, the fourth-class teachers were sold down the river and now the school teachers entirely are sold down the river, and the tax goes into the General Fund.

Now, I would like to call attention to what this does to Section 6, "Ownership": "Two or more stores shall for the purpose of this act be considered under the same general management, supervision or ownership if directly or indirectly controlled by a single person, or any group of persons having a common interest in such stores, or if any part of the gross revenues, net revenues or profits from any such stores shall directly or indirectly be required to be immediately or ultimately made available for the beneficial use, or shall directly or indirectly inure to the immediate or ultimate benefit of any single person or any group of persons having a common interest therein."

Now, in the opinion of many, the way that section reads, it brings in not only the chain stores, as you and I know them, but all associated stores that have a common purpose and common association for buying. Now that is amended so that they remain chain stores if the profits are available "as rental or in any manner whatsoever. It seems to me that it is clear now in this act that any group of independents who join together for joint purpurchases of goods that they sell, as well as the so-called chain store, as it is commonly understood now, come within this tax and they will pay this tax. I think these amendments should be voted down, at least a part of them.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to correct the Senator from Tioga by calling his attention to an error he has undoubtedly made. This bill does not change the original form of the bill with regard to the School Fund. When this bill was first drawn it provided that the funds realized from this tax should go to the School Fund for the benefit of fourth-class school districts. I contended in Committee and against the bill because my contention was not agreed to by a majority of the committee that that provision made this bill unconstitutional, and I want to say right here now that I do not propose to vote for this bill if it is left in its present form, which would be obviously unconstitutional. I do not set myself up as a constitutional lawyer, but there are some things that are obvious, and in order to correct that obvious defect in the bill, the bill was amended so that the part dealing with the distribution of the School Fund to fourth-class school districts was changed, leaving the bill in the form that the tax collected would go to the School Fund, and having taken that provision out for the distribution of the appropriation to the fourth-class districts, the title had to be amended to take out of the title the words "appropriation for school purposes." That was merely a correctional amendment to conform with the original matter in the bill.

The Senator from Tioga should know that there is a companion bill which is about to come over from the House which deals with an increase of salaries to fourth-class districts, and in that way some of this money will undoubtedly be appropriated for teachers in fourth-class districts, and the constitutionality of the bill will not be affected.

Now, I do not propose to vote for this bill and put myself by voting for the bill in a position where we would be holding out to the teachers an empty promise, and unless this bill is made so that in all reasonable probability it will be constitutional, there is no sense of the Senators voting for it. And the inclusion of the words "as rental or otherwise" in the paragraph dealing with the definition of "ownership" was made so that the chain stores would not be able to rent the stores to managers to avoid the provisions of this act, and that is the explanation of the words "as rental or otherwise". It does not affect anyone except those who have, as the act explains, a "beneficial or common interest" in the profit derived from the stores "as rental or otherwise" in the gross receipts. Now, the "otherwise" refers to profits, and if the people who are subject to this act are attempting to avoid it by changing the character of their ownerships or the character of their interests so long as a common interest is maintained by participating in the revenue as rental or otherwise, they will come under the provisions of this act.

Everybody voting for this bill ought to know whom we are expecting to affect by it. I do not say that I am in complete accord with the bill; I think the tax is somewhat too high, but I feel that this program, in which a man would make himself responsible, the head of this government, who has definitely taken upon himself, in a great measure, this responsibility, should be carried out. I agree with it, and while I do not know whose responsibility it is, I am voting for the bill, and I am going to try to see that nothing is done to make it ineffective.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, without attempting to prolong this discussion, I would like to call the attention of the Senator from Philadelphia to the exact words of the act, when he says that it provides only that when net revenue being directly or indirectly for the benefit of a person or a group of persons, they become chain stores. This Act reads as follows:

"a single person or any group of persons having a common interest in such stores, or if any part of the gross revenues, net revenues or profits from any such stores shall directly or indirectly be required to be immediately or ultimately made available for the beneficial use, or shall directly or indirectly inure to the immediate or ultimate benefit of any single person or any group of persons having a common interest therein."

I would like to have any Senator in this Chamber explain to me how a group of individuals privately owning a number of stores, who join together for a common interest and make common purchases, would not come under the provisions of this chain store act. Certainly that group benefits by receiving part of the gross revenue, and it would certainly go to the benefit of that group, and that is the way this act reads, and now they have made it doubly clear, because they say that if it goes to them as rental, or in any manner or kind, if the profits go to any group of individuals, they become chain stores, and I say, Mr. President, that anybody voting on this bill today is voting to tax the individual merchants who organize themselves together to meet the competition of the chain stores.

Mr. President, I want, if I may have a moment, to make one other thing clear. Many of the proponents of this bill profess their interest in it on account of their interest in the individually privately owned stores of the merchants of the State. I give way to no one in Pennsylvania, Mr. President, in my interest in the individual business-man in small communities throughout our State. I was born in a town of less than 4,000 population and have lived there all my life. I have been supported by the merchants of my community in what little success I have had in politics. They are my friends; I have a brother-in-law who is an independent merchant in my town, and my interests are tied up with the independent merchants. It is for that very reason that I voted yesterday to put this bill back into committee in this Senate, a bill which would permit the consumers' cooperatives to go on without paying any taxes, because in my judgment that bill would not only run out of business the independent merchant, but it would run them all out of business, and we would not have anybody to pay taxes in our community.

I want to say this about this bill. This bill, perhaps with the best intention, is designed to correct an evil, but I say that when any government starts to tax a group of individuals because they think that the economic conditions may be served better for another class of individuals, we are treading on ground that no one can say where it is going to lead, when we are attempting to put out of business one class to help another class no one can say where it is going to end. The whole growth of our country has been due to the free exercise in putting everyone on an equal footing in the right to do business and to make a profit, and we all have examples right in our own communities that live independent merchants are needed. I hold no brief for the chain stores, I do not have any connection with the chain stores, directly or indirectly, but I do say that it is unsound if you pass this bill on this floor; you are not only going to tax these chain stores, but every group of independent merchants who have gotten together to buy their goods from a common source to meet the competition that they are getting.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think enough has been said against this bill in fair argument without putting the bill in the position that the Senator from Tioga is putting it, which does not particularly hurt the bill. I have said that there are a number of things about this bill that I do not like. The first thing I said was because the tax is too high, and that was evidence by how I regarded this tax in a committee of which I was a member. When we made an investigation as to what would be the decrease in the amount of revenue if the limit were $400.00 instead of $500.00; that would mean six hundred and some odd thousand dollars in two years. This gives you some idea of the size of the tax and the way it is graduated can be gleaned from that, and it seems to me that it can be more equitably drawn in regard to the distribution of the basis when it comes to graduating the tax according to the number of stores. This proposition has been agitated in this Commonwealth for several years, and the majority of the people whom I have heard are in favor of such a tax. Many of them, I confess, do not know the extent of the tax, but, generally speaking, they are in favor of such a tax, and the Governor of the Commonwealth has assumed the responsibility or obligation to say that he is in favor of such a tax and he made it an issue in some of his campaigns. The responsibility is his as to the tax generally, and as to the structure of the bill he has something to say, and we have some responsibility about that, and, generally speaking, I am going along on this tax, expressing for the purpose of the record my views as to some of the conditions in it, but it is not necessary to bring up arguments which will only tend to confuse.

I want to say to the Senator from Tioga that Senator Pytko and myself discussed and considered very seriously the question even before the amendments were put in, especially whether or not certain of the cooperative stores, or community stores so-called, would come under the provisions of this definition under "'ownership" in section 6, and we consulted with the people who drew up the bill. I was fearful myself, and I think most of us are sure it will not include these people, except and unless their form of organization is such that the persons participate in a profit.

Now, in regard to the amendment introduced: That does not change the picture because the amendment deals with that which is already in the bill, namely, that ownership is established by a common interest in the gross revenue, and the words as inserted are descriptive of revenue and not of anything else. In other words, if these revenues are derived by virtue of a share in the gross receipts, or if these revenues are derived by rentals based upon gross receipes, then this group comes within the provisions of this chain store definition of ownership, so that the rental is merely used to define a provision or the setting up of a system by chain stores that would enable them to lease their stores to managers and take a rental basis as a share of the gross revenues. It will also include in the bill the large department stores in Philadelphia who have escaped the tax and who have a system of establishing departments in their stores rented out to persons engaged in setting up millinery stores, shoe stores and other stores in the various department stores in Philadelphia, so that these stores which have an interest in the department stores will come within this tax. I think the amendments will help to tighten the act and will help to extend the effect of the tax, so that when it comes into operation, if it is a bad tax, if it is a wrong tax, the full extent should be known, and there should be no subterfuge, and so that we will be able to find out what we have been doing.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, advise me whether the amendments offered will place all consumers' cooperatives within the scope of the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, That will depend upon whether the consumers' cooperatives share in the gross revenues of the business, either as profits or rentals. My understanding is that the consumers' cooperatives in its broad sense is not the kind of a cooperative that comes within the provisions of this act.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

For the purpose of the use of this system the Commonwealth is divided into two zones the "North Zone" and the "South Zone"

The area now included in the following counties shall constitute the North Zone

The area now included in the following counties shall constitute the South Zone

Adams Allegheny Armstrong Beaver Bedford Berks Blair Bucks Butler Cambria Chester Cumberland Dauphin Delaware Fayette Franklin Fulton Greene Huntingdon Indiana Juniata Lancaster Lawrence Lebanon Lehigh Mifflin Montgomery Northampton Perry Philadelphia Schuylkill Snyder Somerset Washington Westmoreland and York

Section 3 The plane rectangular coordinates of a point on the earth's surface to be used in expressing the position of a point in the appropriate zone of this system shall consist of two distances expressed in feet and decimals of a foot from a given point One of these distances to be known as the "x coordinate" shall give the position in an east-and-west direction the other to be known as the "y coordinate" shall give the position in a north-and-south direction These coordinates shall be made to depend upon and conform to the plane rectangular coordinates of the triangulation and traverse stations of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as those coordinates have been determined by said survey

The Pennsylvania Coordinate System South Zone consists of a Lambert conformal projection of the Clarke spheroid of 1866 having a central meridian 77° 45′ west of Greenwich The intersecting cone of this projection cuts the surface of the spheroid in parallels of latitude 39° 56′ and 40° 58′ north of the equator along which parallels the scale shall be exact The origin of coordinates for this zone is at the intersection of the meridian 77° 45′ west longitude and the parallel 39° 20′ north latitude This origin is given the coordinates x=2,000,000 feet y=0 feet

The position of the Pennsylvania Coordinate System shall be as marked on the ground by fundamental triangulation or traverse stations established by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey in conformity with the standards adopted by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey for first-order and second-order work whose geodetic positions have been rigidly adjusted on the North American datum of 1927 and whose plane coordinates have been computed on the system here defined Such stations established by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey and any other triangulation and traverse stations which have been definitely established by or in accordance with the requirements of the State department authorized to administer this act may be used for establishing a survey connection with the Pennsylvania Coordinate System

Section 6 No coordinates based on the Pennsylvania Coordinate System purporting to define the position of a point on a land boundary shall be presented to be recorded in public land records or deed records unless such point is within one-half mile of a triangulation or traverse station established as prescribed in section 5 of this act unless the State department authorized to administer this act shall by its rules and regulations increase or decrease such one-half mile distance for the whole Commonwealth or any area or areas thereof

Section 7 The use of the term "Pennsylvania Coordinate System" on any map report of survey or other document shall be limited to coordinates based on the Pennsylvania Coordinate System as defined in this act

Section 8 Nothing contained in this act shall be interpreted as requiring any purchaser or mortgagee to rely wholly on a description based on the Pennsylvania Coordinate System

The second section was read as follows:

Section 2 Section eleven of said act as amended by section two of the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws 795) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 11 Every license to practice as an osteopathic physician issued by the State Board of Osteopathic Examiners shall authorize the holder thereof to practice osteopathy in all its branches including minor surgery and obstetrics without restriction as the same is herein defined and taught and practiced in the legally incorporated reputable colleges of osteopathy but it shall not authorize the holder thereof to practice operative surgery without obtaining an additional license to practice such surgery as provided in section eleven (b) of this act Any use or practice by osteopathic physicians of the agencies or means hereinafter named as embraced within the fundamentals of the principles and practice of the system of osteopathy when used for the purposes in the manner and to the extent as taught and practiced in the legally incorporated reputable colleges of osteopathy shall not be construed the practive of medicine or deemed to be in

The word "osteopathy' as used in this act means a complete and independent scientific system for the preservation of health and the relief and cure of bodily disorders embracing a distinct etiology prophylaxis and therapeutics applicable to all types and conditions of disease which in its practice deals with the human body as an intricate machine holding as its foremost fundamental (a) that the body when in perfect structural alignment will function correctly and health ensue (b) that disease is the effect of anatomical abnormalities producing physiological discord emphasizing malposed part or parts of the spinal column its appendages and attachments as the chief pre-disposing and producing cause of disease to cure which the abnormal part or parts must be adjusted to the normal that [pathogenis] pathogenic bacteria are secondary to the predisposing anatomical cause and (c) which regards and uses non-drug adjunctive measures as palliatives (d) embraces obstetrics ophthalmology subscribes to sanitation and hygiene and to surgery when indicated and practiced from an osteopathic viewpoint (e) employs antiseptics anaesthetics and germicides in case of necessity and antidotes in case of poisoning and (f) opposes the introduction or drugs into the body organism as curative agencies

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment:

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 2 (Sec. 11), page 5, line 25, by inserting after the word "ophthalmology" the following: "subject, however, to the provisions herein as to surgery"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendment and I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHEA. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea, to explain the amendment to House Bill No. 1282.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, which amendment is the gentleman asking me to explain?

Mr. BLANK. The first amendment, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, the first amendment and all the other amendments are simply offered to clarify this bill in case of its passage so that it will bring the asteopathic standard up to that of general medicine.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea, to explain the nature of the amendment relating to ophthalmology.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, what number is that amendment?

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I will respectfully advise the gentleman from Philadelphia that he offered the amendment and not I.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, accepting the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia, in ophthalmology we subject it to the same provisions herein as to surgery. We want ophthalmology to come under the heading of surgery as well as under the heading of medicine. Anybody or any physician who anticipates doing surgery should have no trouble in complying with this particular amendment. His ability as a general surgeon must be the same in ophthalmology as it is in surgery, and not only that, in one section of this bill they claim that ophthalmology is an adjunct of osteopathy; I claim that that is not so.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia to say that at one time he was a professor on the staff of Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia?

Mr. SHEA. I still am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia what are the number of hours in which ophthalmology is taught in Jefferson Medical College?

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia what kind of hours he means?

Mr. BLANK. Sixty minute hours, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman sure he does not mean semester hours?

Mr. BLANK. No, Mr. Speaker, I mean minute hours.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman of course understands what semester hours are. The forty hour statement is about as ridiculous a statement as can be made. I have spent not only forty hours in the study of the eye, but I have spent nigh onto forty years, and I would under no circumstances talk as flippantly about the eye even after forty hours study as some of my opponents do.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am going to ask the membership to vote down the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, sixty-seven members voting in the affirmative and forty-four in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was agreed to.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, may I ask whether or not I may have a roll call on the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The decision has already been rendered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 4 (sec. 12), page 11, line 1, by inserting after the word "desired" the following: "by the proper authorities"

Amend sec. 4 (sec. 12), page 11, line 15, by inserting after the word "school' the following: "when they have received educational qualifications equivalent to that required by law for doctors of medicine"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHEA. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia explain the nature of these amendments?

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, according to House Bill No. 1282, it is stated that osteopathic physicians may be admitted as medical authorities in any civil division of the State of Pennsylvania. Those civil divisions will include a director or directress, as the case may be, poor boards, institutions that we have built for a number of years, for the care of the insane, for the care of half-wits and any subdivision thereof. The reading of the original section is as follows:

"Osteopathic physicians and ostepathic surgeons may be appointed by the State or by any of its political subdivisions to any office or position where an osteopathic physician is desired."

Not caring for the word "desired" we have changed the amendment to read as follows:

"By the proper authorities' after the word "desired", line 1, page 11.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea, has not been properly explained to the membership of this House. I had understood that the membership of this House was agreed on this bill, and I now find that amendments are being offered which would emasculate the bill. Not only would the amendments emasculate this bill but the amendments will emasculate the original bill which was passed by this House in 1909. Under the amendment which has just been offered, members of the House, osteopathic physicians would be required to have the same requirements as are required under the medical act so far as certain political jobs are concerned. So far as the membership of this House is concerned I should like to call your attention very plainly and very simply to the fact that the amendments which have been offered do not relate to the original act as amended by this bill, but the amendments which have been offered relate to the original act as drawn in 1909. I ask the membership of this House to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. OSTROFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHEA. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. OSTROFF. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the amendments now proposed by the gentleman from Philadelphia require osteopathic physicians to have the same training as medical physicians?

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, that is what we are demanding by these amendments, nothing more, nothing less.

Mr. OSTROFF. Mr. Speaker, then I understand that these amendments would wipe out the profession of osteopathy. Is that the purpose?

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, if the profession of osteopathy cannot stand these amendments it should be wiped out.

Mr. SARAFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHEA. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire prior to the amendments now proposed by the gentleman from Philadelphia, what privileges did the original bill give to the osteopaths?

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Allegheny will permit me to read a little treatise on that particular subject I will be very glad to do so.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not care to take up the time of the House. I will ask the gentleman to be brief in his answer. Maybe I can put the question in a different way. As the amendments of the sponsor of the bill now appear in the act, without such amendments, does that bill give the osteopath the same privileges as a medical doctor with reference to appointment to public institutions, state aided hospitals and health aided associations?

Mr. SHEA. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am sorry. For the information of the members of the House, the original bill and the amendments give the osteopath the same privileges as the medical doctor with reference to public and state aided institutions. I think that the amendments of Mr. Shea, as presented, are simply to make it that they remain in their own particular branch of work as osteopaths, who are duly licensed and who are taken care of by the state today under the statutes.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLANK. Do I understand, Mr. Speaker, from the gentleman from Allegheny that the amendments to this bill would permit an osteopathic physician to hold any job under any state or political subdivision?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, not in toto, but it does state that they can be appointed to a state institution or to a hospital or to any public health work.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether or not the bill does not specifically state on page 10, line 29, as follows: "May be appointed by the state or by any of its political subdivisions to any office or position where an osteopathic physician is desired".

Mr. SARRAF. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, but then read on.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHEA. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea, to explain to the membership of this House the difference between a medical physician and an osteopathic physician.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that has anything to do with the amendments that are offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the point of order is not well taken and that the question is relevant to the amendments before the House. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I repeat the same question.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman repeat his question?

Mr. BLANK. The question ,Mr. Speaker, was the difference between an allopathic physician and an osteopathic physician.

Mr. SHEA. First of all, Mr. Speaker, the word allopathic was discarded long ago. Today it is medicine, and the difference between a medical man and an osteopath is that the medical man has tradition. That is basic. Before I am through here I will show you that the other has a false basis. They tell you about back bones. If I had the time I could prove to you that you could not subluxate a back bone without a twenty pound sledge hammer or a fifty foot fall. We have a member of the House on the other side—I hate to refer to him, but he comes from Warm Springs in Georgia—

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea, is a physician and a learned physician, and, we as humble laymen, do not comprehend or appreciate his technical language, I would ask the gentleman to make his explanation brief, and not only brief but so we can all understand it.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, "Osteopathic physicians and osteopathic surgeons may be appointed by the state or by any of its political subdivisions to any office or position where an osteopathic physician is desired." We amend that simply because if anybody succeeds in the world he shall succeed under the efforts we have made to bring medicine to the fore.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not answering my question. I will ask for a responsive answer.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not feel it is within his power to rule whether or not the answer is proper. It is up to the gentleman being interrogated to give the answers that he feels are correct.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, I will bring my answers down to the real difference between an osteopath and a regular medical man. In this bill it says that "the word osteopath as used in this act", and which every osteopathic physician has to subscribe to, and to which we do not, "means a complete and independent scientific system for the preservation of the health and the relief and cure of bodily disorders." Listen to these next words: "embracing a distinct etioligy prophylaxis and therapeutics." I will have to use these big words because they are in the bill, Mr. Speaker —

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, may I withdraw my question?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia withdraws his question.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when the original amendment was offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia you will recall that I made no vigorous protest because the nature of the amendment was not material so far as this bill is concerned. There is, however, very serious objection to the amendment that is presently offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, and when I say a serious objection I mean an objection which goes to the very vitals of this bill, which goes back to 1909, and which threatens the existence and livelihood of every osteopathic physician practicing in the State of Pennsylvania. It not only threatens their very existence but threatens the existence of the splendid institution, to wit, the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy and its hospital, both of which are doing splendid work throughout the state of Pennsylvania. I want to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that in the act as originally written in 1909 any report or certificate by an osteopathic physician was recognized as such. In this amendment it is proposed to wipe out something that has been in existence in Pennsylvania since 1909. That provides that no such report and no such certificate should be accepted in this Commonwealth unless the person issuing that certificate has graduated from a medical college. I say it is unfair, I say it is improper and I say it has no place in the hall of this House, and I ask the members to vote "no" on the amendment.

Mr. BOYER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blank.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLANK. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BOYER. Mr. Speaker, I happen to come from a third class city. If the council of my city at some time in the future after this bill becomes a law should decide to have an osteopath as city physician, could that council appoint him?

Mr. BLANK. It could, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BOYER. Mr. Speaker, if the Governor should decide to appoint state medical directors or county medical directors could the Governor appoint an osteopath to such position?

Mr. BLANK. Most assuredly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BOYER. Mr. Speaker, if the Governor should decide to appoint as Secretary of Health an osteopath, could he do that too?

Mr. BLANK. Most assuredly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BOYER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Boyer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOYER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Cambria whether or not he feels it is improper for an osteopathic physician to be appointed where he may be desired.

Mr. BOYER. Mr. Speaker, I have no opinion on the matter. I was interrogating the gentleman for information.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blank.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLANK. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, under this bill which we have before us may I ask what are the educational requirements for the practice of osteopathy?

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from McKean I will say that the bill as originally drawn required one year of pre-osteopathy and four years of an osteopathy college education. Under the provisions of this bill two years of pre-osteopathic education is required and the same four year period of attendance at a recognized osteopathic college.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, under this section to which Mr. Shea has offered amendments, an osteopathic physician would be entitled to pass upon the commitment of persons to institutions, sanitoria, insane asylums and other institutions of that sort, is that correct?

Mr. BLANK. He would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia mean to tell me he would be in favor of having the people of this Commonwealth, including the membership of this House, certified to such institutions upon the certificate of an osteopath who has not had any training whatever in medical and mental diseases?

Mr. BLANK. The gentleman has asked two questions, Mr. Speaker, and it is impossible to answer them together. It seems to me that the gentleman presumes what he tries to prove. He has asked me a question, would I be willing to agree that an osteopathic physician could commit one to an institution if that physician were untrained. Of course, I would not. I assume that the osteopathic physician is as equally well trained as the medical physician.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, that brings me to my third question. I would like to ask the gentleman one more question. If that is the case and you think that his education is the equivalent of a medical doctor, what objection would the gentleman have to the specific requirement that they should have the equivalent of a medical education in their training?

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, the answer is quite fundamental, and I really should ask the gentleman the question that I asked the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shea. It seems that neither of them recognizes the true distinction between an osteopathic physician and an allopathic physician. It seems it is not proper for a layman to call to the attention of this House the fundamental difference between the two and therefore I shall not attempt to do so unless questioned. I do want to call to the attention of the House this distinction which has existed, as I said before, for many, many years. There are many people, I understand, who insist upon osteopathic treatment for certain particular diseases or certain particular ailments, and there are people who prefer the other side. I hold no brief for either but I do certainly feel it is a function of this legislature to allow both to exist as they have in the past, and to allow the people to choose what kind of a healing art they desire for themselves.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not a member of the medical profession and I do not understand the technical distinction between osteopaths and homeopaths and any other "paths". I do understand this, however, that the bill clearly sets forth the educational requirements for the practice of osteopathy. The educational requirements as far as I can see them, which are plainly printed in the bill, require the equivalent of a four year high school course, the approximate equivalent of a freshman course in college, and thereafter the study of osteopathy and nothing else. Members of the House, a great majority of those here have had the substantial equivalent of that educational course with the exception of osteopathy. As far as I know and I feel that the gentleman connot refute this, the ordinary osteopath has not studied such subjects as mental diseases, he is not a surgeon and is completely ignorant with reference to the practice of the various healing art.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no objections to the practice of osteopathy in proper cases, — I most empathically have not, — but we are talking after all with reference to an amendment to a particular section of this bill. That amendment is whether or not we shall require people who are to be appointed to public posts dealing with medical matters and with the welfare of the general public, including, and let me emphasize this, the commitment of citizens of this Commonwealth, who might be yourselves or ourselves, the commitment of those people to insane institutions, and I submit to the members of this House that for important appointments of that sort which deal with your health, your welfare, and in some cases your liberty, it is essential that the men be trained highly in all subjects of the medical art and trained with the best all around medical education that science can produce. The educational requirements of this bill as they now stand most certainly do not require anything more than an elemental training and I ask the members of this House to vote favorably on these amendments.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from McKean to state that the same requirements were required for all healing arts as are required for the allopathic physician?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I did not make any statement to the effect that the same requirements were required for all healing arts. I did make the statement and I repeat it, that people who receive appointments from the Governor in which they have control over the lives and welfare of our citizens, should be required to have the very highest training that science can produce, and I submit that this bill does not contain such educational requirements, Yet the provision which we are asked to pass upon here now would permit the appointment of a physician of osteopathy, of inferior training, to those very important public positions.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from McKean what are the requirements under the Medical Licensure Act?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to say that I do not know the requirements precisely, but I believe they require a four year college course, —

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker, may I say for the information of the House that the requirements under the Medical Licensure Act and the requirements under the Osteopathic Act will now be made similar so far as the number of years required for study is concerned.

Mr. KANE. I am sorry. The gentleman seems to know the answer to his question. I frankly stated I did not know the answer. However, I do not think that any reputable institution in Pennsylvania will permit people to practice the art of medicine who have not had the educational requirements which I have set forth. In addition, I believe they now require a two year interneship, in the case of surgery.

Mr. BLANK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the reason I asked that question of the gentleman from McKean is because it seemed to me quite clear from the tenor of his speech that he did not know what the requirements are, and I certainly feel it is improper for a gentleman who does not know the requirements under both acts to speak on the questions raised by the amendments to this act. I hold no brief for what has been said on the floor as to the varying requirements or the abilities or capacities of both classes of the healing art. That question is not up for decision in this House. The only question which is presented at this time is the question as to whether or not we feel that we can go back by these amendments and repeal the law which has been in existence in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania since 1909. That is the question which is raised because at all times since that date the members of the osteopathic profession have been permitted to do the things which the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia will deny. I ask the members of the House to vote "no"

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I did not intend to say anything on this question, but since it has been brought up quite vividly as to the liability of any of us being taken before an osteopath and committed to an insane asylum, and things of that sort. I just want to call to the attention of the House that down in Beaver county there was a man who had the courage to go into the borough of Aliquippa and ask other men there to join the union, that he was arrested by the local authorities and taken before the Medical Board and sent down to Torrence because he had the courage to ask men to join that union.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking upon the amendment to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the amendments before the House.

Mr. REISING. I agree, Mr. Speaker, and neither did the previous speakers confine themselves to the amendments, I think.

MOTION TO LAY BILL AND AMENDMENTS ON TABLE

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, we have been listening to much technical language and I suppose that ninety percent of us are terribly confused. I therefore move, Mr. Speaker, that this bill together with the amendments, be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BLANK and Mr. JAMES A. SMITH.

RESOLUTIONS

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. KILROY offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1937.

Whereas Word has just been received of the death of the loving and devoted sister of Honorable John B. Kelly, Mrs. Anne Frommeyer, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and

Whereas While we feel the ineffectiveness of any act or expression on our part will in no way reduce the grief and sense of loss to the family who sorrowfully survive, yet we find it fitting that we pause at this moment to extend our sympathy; therefore be it

Resolved That this House of Representatives, having full cognizance of the fact that the Honorable John B. Kelly and his family has suffered their second loss within a short space of time, and knowing of the deep affection that existed between Mr. Kelly and his sister, extend its deepest and most profound sympathy; and be it further Resolved That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mr. Kelly by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr OMINSKY offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

House of Representatives, May 4, 1937.

Whereas, The third day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, marked the sudden passing of the Honorable Charles Edwin Fox; and

Whereas, This great civic leader did render noble service to all the people of the City of Philadelphia, and of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, His noble achievements are recorded this day in an editorial of one of the Philadelphia newspapers; and

Whereas, This House concurs in the sentiments and respect for this great citizen as expressed in such editorial: Therefore be it

Resolved, That the contents of such editorial, as follows:

"The death of Charles Edwin Fox comes as a shock.

"As senior counsel of The Record, he was our beloved associate, a man who, over the years, worked with us and for us. As such we mourn him. Even more, we mourn with our fellow-citizens the loss of a real leader in this community and a man known even above his brilliant legal career as the Big Brother' of the boys of Philadelphia—and especially of the boys who needed a 'Big Brother' most.

"Charles Edwin Fox headed one of the busiest law firms in the city. He was active in every phase of his profession, especially with the Philadelphia Criminal Justice Association, and on special committees of the Philadelphia Bar Association devoted to reform work. Two of his most notable legal accomplishments were his service from 1924 to 1927, as a director of the Committee of Seventy which uncovered widespread election frauds, and his more recent chairmanship of the State committee which drafted a notable series of bills aimed to modernize our criminal procedure and wipe out abuses and frauds committed under the cloak of legal technicality.

"Beyond his legal career, Charles Edwin Fox served the community in many ways through the United Campaign, as a director of the Philadelphia Orchestra, in various charitable and religious organizations. Yet with all these, he found time—and a great deal of time—to wage the greatest of all his fights—

"The fight to give the boys of Philadelphia a chance to be men.

"Founder of the Big Brothers Association, he served as a Boy Scout Commissioner, chairman or director of such various organizations as the Child Guidance Clinic, the Recreation Commission, the Playgrounds Association, and as chairman of the Glen Mills School changed that institution from a reformatory to an industrial school.

"How many boys had their start—a good start—as a result of his interest in their welfare? Not even 'Charlie' Fox knew that.

"But the boys—especially boys who were 'in bad'—boys who had started off on the wrong foot—knew that in him they had a real friend and a ready counselor.

'And there is precisely the great lesson of Fox's career. Busy as he was, he found time to take an interest in the young people coming up in the world about him. Most busy business men just don't take that time, or show that concern. Fox not only was interested, he joined their activities, as one of them, played with them, talked with them, fought for them.

"We only hope his career will make more of us—especially busy business men—stop and think. Those shadowy figures who run errands, carry messages, do the office boy's chores as unobtrusively as possible, they're not robots, they're the men of a generation to come—the men who will either carry on or fumble the ball which the present generation tosses them in this game of living.

"So it is that the boys of Philadelphia, most of all, will mourn the passing of Charles Edwin Fox—with a knowledge and an understanding which even we of The Record have only been able to glimpse. For his greatest achievement was that he understood them. Far more than the words imply, he was their big brother."

be spread upon the record of this House; And be it further

Resolved, That this House express its heartfelt condolences to his bereaved family and that such condolences be conveyed by the clerk of this House to the immediate members of the family.

RESOLUTION

Mr. ELPERN offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the rules.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ELPERN RESOLUTION No. 77.

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1937.

Whereas, The Governor of the Commonwealth has repeatedly expressed the desire of his administration to provide work for the unemployed, and

Whereas, Act No. 6 of the 1936 special session appropriated $700,000 for the pumping of water out of flooded anthracite and bituminous coal mines of which $300,000 remains unexpended, and

Whereas, The Commonwealth is now in possession of 28 pumps which are at present located in the anthracite coal region where they were formerly employed in pumping water from coal mines which pumping it appears has not resulted in providing additional employment, and

Whereas, In the Latrobe-Connellsville bituminous coal region there is now available 3700 acres of rich coal territory, enough to put 2000 men to work for a period of 20 years, and

Whereas, The Jamison Coal and Coke Company, and the Humphrey Coal and Coke Company with mines at Whitney, Hostetter, Carpentertown and Mammouth are anxious to reopen these mines when the water has been pumped for existing workings, and these companies have an outlet for their coal, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that the pumps available in the anthracite region should immediately be moved to the bituminous region and be employed, with the funds available, referred to in the preamble hereof, to pump water from bituminous coal mines, where the result of such pumping will provide employment for the bituminous coal miners of this Commonwealth.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Department of Health and the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, May 5, 1937.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That a joint legislative committee is hereby created which shall be composed of three persons appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and four persons appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, whose duty it shall be to make a thorough study and prepare a complete revision and restatement of the laws regulating anthracite mines in this Commonwealth, and report the same to the General Assembly at its session in the year 1939, not later than February first;

and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this bill, which is now before us, is one of the most important upon which we are called to vote at this session of the Legislature.

The so-called South Penn Tunnel Highway, which is provided for in this bill, will pass through more of my district than that of any other Senator.

The proposed project is a vast one. The road, when constructed, will extend from a point near Carlisle westward to a point on the Lincoln Highway near Irwin, a distance of approximately 164 miles. If the road is built as proposed, it will go through 9 tunnels; four of which are a mile in length, three are considerably over one-half mile long and only two are short ones.

The road is to be made of four lanes of travel and, I assume, the tunnels will be twin tunnels with two tracks each way. All of the larger tunnels will doubtless require artificial ventilation with probably central air shafts sunk from the tops of the mountains, and four will be required in constant use, operated by electricity to expel the exhaust gasses from the automobiles. The deep cuts will present a great deal of difficulty in the matter of snow removal and in preventing slides.

The work already done in grading the old South Penn right of way is rather insignificant as compared with the amount of work that will be required to complete the road.

In understand that the estimate of the completed cost of this road is $50,000,000. I think, however, that this estimate does not include the cost of rights-of-way, and I have seen no figures on the cost of maintenance. Many people think it will require double the estimated amount to build the road, or even more.

In its maintenance and operation, provision will have to be made for numerous tunnel guards, ventilator operators, toll keepers, maintenance men, etc. Perhaps five or ten million dollars, depending on cost of construction, will be necessary each year for interest and sinking fund charges.

However, with all this, the road is considered feasible and will doubtless prove of great advantage to the State and County, and it has been my intention to support the bill.

I may say I am doing this, however, not without some misgivings. The bill sets up a Commission to build the road and the Commissioners are given almost unlimited power. They may issue bonds in any amount they deem necessary and as often as they need money. These bonds are to be paid from the revenues of the road — tolls and rentals.— The Commission may take land by eminent domain or buy as they choose. They fix the rate of tolls; they may lease to others the land, that they have acquired along the right-of-way, for hotels, restaurants, gas stations, etc. They may make any and all rules and regulations for the use of the road.

It is said that this road will provide unlimited jobs to keep in power the present political party. Perhaps that may be, if the same corrupt methods are used as in the W. P. A., which has not even permitted itself to be investigated.

The road may prove a great monument to its builders, if construction costs are kept down and the management is efficient and honest, but it has the greatest possibilities for corruption if the Governor fails to select men of the highest character and ability for Commissioners.

I am disturbed somewhat about a few other points which I hope the Highway Department will clear up.

This proposed highway will cross numerous other roads. It will go through farm land. If I felt that undue hardships were to be caused to local travelers by preventing them from crossing the road, or that the use of farms would be destroyed without a liberal policy in the payment of damages, I would be compelled to vote against the bill, as I think all real damages occasioned in building a road, which is designed to be a National road, should be paid promptly and liberally.

I have felt constrained to put these considerations on record on account of the importance of this road to my district and to the State, and I shall expect that the Commissioners to be chosen shall be selected with the greatest care, and that before any bonds are offered to the public a most careful and detailed estimate of the cost of the road shall be presented, as well as the cost of maintenance, so that the people may not be induced to invest their money without full information on the subject.

Mr. PRESIDENT, this bill in my opinion needs little amending. It was originally proposed that a Commission should condemn property if they could not agree with the owners of the land, but the title should be taken in the name of the Commonwealth. Now, that has been amended so that the title is now taken in the name of the Commission." The bill originally provided that the Commonwealth shall be under no obligation to accept or pay for any property condemned, or any costs incidental to any condemnation proceeding; but they have stricken out the word "Commonwealth" and put in the word "Commission," so that the bill now reads that the Commission shall be under no obligation to accept and pay for any property condemned and taken, and with the thought that this is an error, I believe this bill should go over in order for another day, and if there is no objection, I will ask that the bill go over.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the bill going over in order?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will be very glad to let the bill on the Calendar if the Senator from Somerset will see me later on in the day and will discuss the amendments so that they can be acted upon tomorrow.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am satisfied to have the bill go back to the Highway Committee if the Senator wishes.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate someone who knows something about this bill, either the Chairman of the Committee on Highways, or Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like to inquire of the Senator from Westmoreland whether or not, since the bill was amended it makes this Commission an agency of the Commonwealth.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it does.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, and then, under this bill, you are aware that the principal, the Commonwealth, will be responsible for the Acts of the agent?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this is entirely financed with private funds and when the bonds are advertised and paid for and the income is received from tolls on the highway. It is entirely a proposition where a person uses the road only because he wants to, as it runs paralled to two main highways that are in existence today, and any person who desires to use it will do so for the time that is saved, and after a period of years it will be paid for.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator inform me who is liable in case of damages to the land in the event the Commission collapses after sometime.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the syndicate that builds the road. Your commissioners are only the directors of the board of the state, to see that the road is built according to specifications and see that the state's interest is protected and to see that the people collect their damages, and so forth.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, another question on that point: Suppose as the work goes on and the fifty million dollars appropriation is used up and they will need $50,000,000 to complete the work, as Senator Ealy has said, and the syndicate will not go along with the other $50,000,000?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would say to the Senator that before these bonds are sold by the syndicate, it assumes an obligation of $50,000,000, and it will assume all future obligations that are necessary to complete the work, because to protect their original investment, they would have to do it. No concern is going to spend $50,000,000, who would not put up the additional money. There are three or four bidders who are interested in the bonding of this particular project who have already made an engineering survey of this proposed road, and I think they are convinced that $50,000,000, or $60,000,000, will be sufficient to complete it.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, as this bill is going to lie over until tomorrow, it would be well to consider those matters.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will be glad to sit down and talk over any question.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Westmoreland if he can inform me whether or not under the provisions of this bill, these bonds that are provided will be a legal investment for trust funds?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, yes, I understand that they are.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if that was originally in the bill it was underwritten by the Commonwealth, and if it is still there, notwithstanding the fact that the whole project is not being underwritten by the Commonwealth.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not think so.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to suggest for the consideration of the Committee that there is one other point involved, that is whether or not the Attorney General has been asked as to the Constitution question.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair suggests inasmuch as the bill is going over in order, that you settle these difficulties off the floor of the Senate.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I would like somebody to tell me why and what is the motive in this bill, which will tax motor boats on inland waters, for instance, on the Delaware River. Down in my county, anybody having a motor boat will have to pay $1.00 per cylinder. Now why this tax? I see that the revenue goes to the Department of Game and Fish. We are now paying a 25% gas tax, and I cannot see any reason for the passage of this bill. Is it just a bill to get more tax? I would like to have it explained by somebody.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I join with the Senator from Delaware in his position on this bill. I am told that if this bill becomes a law, it will mean the death-knell to the future of the motor boat associations. I have over forty miles of the Delaware River fronting on my district, and my people consider it a very vicious bill, and

I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Game and Fisheries.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think it is time to do something on this calendar and to begin to get our bills through and stop recommitting them back to committees. As I recall it, this is a departmental bill, prepared by the Department of Forests and Waters, and in my opinion they gave very good reasons for the amendments to this act. Under those circumstances I do not think that this bill should go back to committee. The people who are handling this bill should stand on the floor and tell us something about it, and if they do not know, they should ask that it go over in its order until somebody in the department can be consulted about it. We ought not be sending these administration bills back to committees and have them going back and forth to re-list them again. We are getting near the wind-up of what we hope to be the close of the session, and something ought to be done about these bills, therefore, I object to this bill going back to commitee.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion, and move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CAVALCANTE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to Amend section 1, page 3, line 15, by striking out the words "mine inspector of the district" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "sealer of weights and measures of the county"; amend section 1, page 3, line 16, by inserting after the word "located" and before the word "any" the following: "or by the Department of Internal Affairs"; amend section 1, page 3, line 20, by striking out the words "mine inspector of the district where the mine" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "sealer of weights and measures or the Department of Internal Affairs, as the case may be"; amend section 1, page 3, line 21, by striking out at the beginning of said line the words "is located"; amend section 1, page 3, line 26, by striking out after the word "shall" and before the word "enforce" the following words: "be his duty to"; amend section 1, page 3, lines 27, 28 and 29, by striking out after the part word "tion" all of said lines.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 809, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of Article twelve of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled, "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth," by further defining the powers and duties of the city controller imposing limitations on the powers of and duties on departments trusts and officers regulating commitments by officers and providing for the audit of firemen's pension funds go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga, the reason for this bill going over in order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have not had a chance to read the bill with a full understanding as to what it means, and two or three other Senators tell me the same thing. Mr. President, I ask that the bill go over in its order so that we may study the bill.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to explain to the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, and the other Senators that if they have not read this bill on first and second readings, that with the exception of a clarifying amendment which was put in the bill on third reading, it is the same as it was on the calendar on first reading. The bill is an important measure for the city of Philadelphia, and provides that the Controller of the City of Philadelphia shall have the right to pre-audit the accounts of the various departments, in order to avoid an evil which has created a deficit of $5,000,000. or $6,000,000. by mandamuses on various departments in the city of Philadelphia. After the budget is made up for a certain year in the department and a deficiency arises then it goes into the next year and crops up as a deficiency, with the result that we have about a $10,000,000. deficit, $5,000,000. of which has been created in this manner.

Under the provisions of this bill, each department, before it may make purchases, it will be required to submit the request to the Controller, who will look it up and compare it with the allowances in the budget for that year. I think this is a good bill that may be followed in the rest of the state, but in order that we may not be accused with interfering in the management of local governments, we have restricted to cities of the first class, and I hope that the Senator from Tioga will withdraw his objection and join with us in voting for this bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, with the present information I have about this bill, I cannot vote on it. I cannot believe it is so urgent that it cannot wait over until Monday; it will be no great detriment to the city of Philadelphia. I am wondering, as a matter of fact, if we have time before the close of the session to attempt to change it. I am told, Mr. President, that this act takes out the control of the Department of City Trusts in Philadelphia, handling the Girard Estate and other big estates and puts them into the hands of the Controller of Philadelphia. If it so changes the control of these trusts, the people of Pennsylvania want to know it, I think the Senate wants to know it, and, therefore, I would like to examine this bill to know just what this bill is. If the Senator from Philadelphia objects, it is simply to ram this bill through.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am happy to ignore the last statement of the Senate from Tioga, because I know of nobody who could ram anything through and I am not trying to do anything like that. I will not waste any energy in that direction, but if the Senator would try not to impede legislation and would have read this bill when it was on first and second readings and if he would just give the amendments some thought, he would understand that this bill could not possibly affect these trusts, because Philadelphia has no authority over the trusts. Most of this money comes from the Girard estate and the distribution of that is covered by the will of Stephen Girard. There is a good reason for objecting to the bill going over: First, there is a resolution before this Senate that we adjourn by the 21st, and secondly, because this bill becomes effective at once, and we will save a great deal of money before the end of this year. I am asking even the Republican Senators if they will appreciate this good piece of legislation by voting for this bill. The reason there are so many corrections this year is because those who have had the opportunity to make the necessary corrections in the last forty years have neglected to do so.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the bill going over in its order? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would also like to suggest that if we are going to have so much talk on these various bills, we will not get finished before May 21st.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair agrees with the Senator from Susquehanna.

Is there objection to the bill going over in its order? The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 843 (House Bill No. 1562), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1406) entitled "An act authorizing the Attorney General under certain conditions to enter into agreements to collect claims from boroughs for the maintenance of State highways in installments after such claims have been reduced to judgments" by extending the act to all pending claims of the Department of Highways against boroughs for the construction reconstruction or maintenance of State highways go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SCHOR. Mr. Speaker, on Monday of this week in this House a resolution was presented, a privileged resolution, by my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Caesar, in which he congratulated a member of this House whose wife had given birth to a boy. At the time the resolution was unanimously adopted there was a prolonged and incessant demand that the member who was felicitated make a speech, and at this time I want to thank Sam Weiss for shouting as long as he did that I make a speech. At that time, because of the press of legislative business, I was unable to say a few words in thanks to the membership of the House for having unanimously adopted such a resolution. At this time my wife wishes to join me in thanking the membership for having so adopted the resolution offered by my colleague. I might further add that I read the resolution to my son and at first he was a bit dubious because he thought in some way his future prospects might be impaired but I assured him that there would be no trouble on that score and he, too, wishes to join my wife and me in thanking the membership for having unanimously adopted the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under a question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. SIMON

Mr. SIMON asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know that the rest of the members of the House join with me in feeling happy over the fact that the father is doing so well after this blessed event, but I do not think that this is the place to come and boast, and want to express my objections to that.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with the thought of saving the taxpayers of Pennsylvania at least several millions of dollars in a biennium, at a time when a very serious deficit faces the State, on March 16th I made a statement proposing that the Governor co-operate with the Legislature to work out a reorganization of the departments in the interest of efficiency and economy. At that time I offered a tentative program which if put into effect would reduce the cost of government by two million dollars or more.

As illustrating the urgent need for a thorough overhauling of our State government, permit me to cite an instance which came to my knowledge the past few days.

During the 1935 Session there came before the Appropriation Committee a representative of the State Law Library, a thoroughly trained individual with a Phi Betta Kappa key, whose salary had been reduced from $2400 to $2100 a year. In the interest of justice and efficiency we increased the appropriation so that the salary cut could be restored and the State retain an efficient servant.

But what happened? This able and well-fitted employe was summarily dismissed by the Democratic Administration and a faithful follower of the Earle-Guffey organization was installed at a salary of $3600 a year, although at the time of his appointment he was 86 years of age and without any previous training or experience in law library work.

Not only that, but I understand that a woman employe, graduate of a library school with a number of years of experience in library work, whose salary was $1700 a year, was dismissed in order to make place for a Democratic favorite without training or experience, and at a salary of $3600.

Realizing that no economy plan had any chance of success without the active support of the Governor, I asked that he signify his willingness to work with the Legislature in the development of such a program.

To date he has not shown any interest in this proposal.

Upon the completion of my statement before the House, the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, as Chairman of the Committee on State Government, commenting upon what I had said, advised that a subcommittee was then at work upon legislation (to use his own language) "that would put into force and effect many changes in the form of our present State government. Bearing in mind the Sterling report * * * that committee has been working on the subject but we have designated a subcommittee that is now engaged in delving into the subject very deeply."

Further, the gentleman from Monroe said: "I do want him to know, however, that this Administration will not treat as lightly the report of the Sterling Committee as did the Administration that named the Sterling Committee. They had an excellent report there, but that Administration never drove very far on the road. Just to allay the fears of the gentleman from Delaware, may I assure him that the Committee on State Government, of his Administration will give more careful study and evelop further that report than has occurred in the ast." (end of quote).

Of course any one familiar with the Sterling Committee Report knows that there was much in the suggestions which I have made which did not appear in that report. This is no reflection upon the report, which was a fine iece of work.

However, I was delighted at the thought that the Democratic leadership in the House was undertaking not nly a study of that report, but the development of legisation to bring about a more efficient and economical adinistration of our State government. There was, however, no assurance in this that any program which the ommittee might sponsor would be accepted by the Administration.

We are now talking about final adjournment and, alas, have looked in vain for a ringing declaration from he Governor and a legislative program from the Comittee.

On February 24th in his budget message to the Legisature Governor Earle urged upon us a study of the terling Committee Report. On March 16th the chairman f the State Government Committee told us that "this dministration will not treat as lightly the report of the terling Committee as did the Administration which amed the Sterling Committee."

Are these but vague promises and mere political gesures for public consumption?

STATEMENT BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I personally ad no desire whatsoever to make any comment on what as occurred in the Capitol in the past few days but due o the fact that the gentlemen from Delaware, possibly y innuendo, indicated that a certain trusted Republican mploye of the Department of Public Instruction had been ismissed, and indicated that a Democratic employe had een retained, I feel I should call the attention of the nembership to the newspaper report that has just been ublished carrying the story of the dismissals that have een made in the Treasury Department upon the accession f Clair Ross to the Treasurership of the Commonwealth f Pennsylvania. I feel sure that the newspaper report self was quite sufficient to indicate what I have to say o the membership of the House. However, I feel that should reiterate, to some extent, what that newspaper eport stated, because a superficial reading of the dismissals that were made on the first day that Clair Ross ook office would indicate that the entire Republican State Committee was harbored in the Treasurer's office. The alaries that they received, the henchmen to whom they elonged, the districts that they lead would indicate that he Republican organization had found surcease in the tate Treasury. I feel sure that the best indication that he membership of this House could have in order to now the situation as it exists and how this administraon is following a process of economy is by following hose dismissals. There is no doubt, as the gentleman rom Delaware well knows, and with which fact we are ll familiar, that the Treasury Department has had imposed upon it over the past four years a tremendous amount of extra work occasioned by the great amount of relief expenditures and the great number of pensions that are now being paid in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. But I also wish to call the attention of the membership of this House to the fact that the individuals who were dismissed were Republicans and that the positions they held under the Republican regime in the Treasurer's office were positions, together with the salaries paid in connection therewith, far above the actual requirements and needs of the office of the State Treasurer.

I would say to the membership of this House that now that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is one hundred per cent under the control of the Democratic Party, we will now have an opportunity in all functions of the government to put into play the principles which the people of the Commonwealth said they wanted of the Democratic Party.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I sort of got lost in the maze of the reply, if I understand correctly it was a reply of the gentleman from York, I could not quite make out whether he was saying that the employes of the State Treasury Department were fired because they were members of the Republican State Committee or whether he was implying that a man who held a political position—that is, a party position—should not be employed in the State Treasury and that, therefore, we would expect that under Mr. Ross there would be no men who held any office as committeemen or any other position in the Democratic party appointed to offices and positions in the State Treasury.

I wish that the gentleman from York would at some future date write that out and clarify it for us. I realize the difficulties under which we are both struggling this morning but at the same time I think that in the future if he would write it out it would be helpful.

STATEMENT BY MR. FLINCHBAGH

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened with interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware, I would like to know where the lucrative positions under the Democratic Administration are hidden, because I have tried for a long time to uncover some of them. Personally, I have placed well qualified people or assisted in placing well qualified people, graduates of colleges, men and women with degrees, and they have not been able to secure any position with such lucrative remuneration.

As a matter of interest I have investigated some of the salaries paid in the departments which were recently under the control of the Republican party and I find such salaries as this: Clerk, $1800. Now, from the information I have received we have very efficient clerks under the Democratic Administration serving in the various departments at salaries of from $1020 to $1200, and I feel that we would be able to fill these positions for a great deal less money than was being paid out under the Republican administration. A position as messenger at $1500. A clerk at $2000. A transcribing clerk at $1740. Another clerk, and I happen to know this personally, his qualifications are just mediocre, at $2500.

It seems to me that it would have been well for the Republican administration during the long years that they served in the several offices in the State of Pennsylvania to have investigated some of these positions and these salaries which were quite out of keeping with the services rendered.

STATEMENT BY MR. HOLLAND

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, much has been said during this session regarding a fair distribution of taxes. This expression has always been used when levying taxes but nothing has been said of a fair distribution of taxes after they have been collected.

In this Commonwealth the State collects a tax on gasoline, a tax for driving a motor vehcile, and a tax on the vehicle itself. These three taxes with the exception of the emergency tax on gasoline for relief, are used for the building and maintenance of highways throughout the Commonwealth. Maintenance of township roads is being taken over by the State to relieve the farm owner of his real estate tax. Counties are refunded one half a cent on every gallon of gasoline sold in their county, irrespective of the fact that the greater amount is collected in the cities. Regardless of all these concessions, the real estate owners in the cities of this Commonwealth continue to be taxed for the paving of the streets and for maintenance of the streets. No doubt the Highway Department will say that they do maintain highways in cities but this maintenance is nothing in comparison to the dollars that they take out of the cities.

I have been unable to get the figures for all of the cities in the State but I would like to point out to this House the condition existing in the City of Pittsburgh. According to the figures of the Department of Revenue, the City of Pittsburgh pays in taxes on gas, drivers' licenses and owners' licenses, the sum of $7,000,000. or thereabout every year. Now what was done with this $7,000,000. collected in Pittsburgh during the year 1936.

The State Highway Department started and completed construction on three major projects within Pittsburgh city limits at a total cost of $303,976.56. I do not think it necessary to dwell on what percentage this amount spent on improvements is to the total figure of $7,000,000. collected out of the purses of the people of Pittsburgh.

During political campaigns much rantings are made of relieving the small home owner of his real estate tax. We have movements from certain pressure groups of taking the school tax from the overburdened home owner but little or nothing has been said of why the streets of our cities should be maintained and improved by taxes on the home. A man's home does no harm to the street. It is the motor vehices continuous usage of streets that causes the maintenance of streets to be a very costly item in any city budget.

Today the city of Pittsburgh is issuing two million dollars worth of bonds. This money is to be used in the improving of streets in the city of Pittsburgh. This sum of two million dollars the home owner of the city of Pittsburgh will have to add to his tax burden while at the same time seven million dollars is taken out of the city and used to take over and improve rural roads. I do not want you to misunderstand me. The people of the city do believe that they should share their burden of our State highway system but they also believe that a part of the moneys collected in the usage of motor vehicles in their respective cities should be returned to them for maintenance and improvement of streets in their respective cities.

The city of Pittsburgh today has five hundred and fifty miles of unimproved dirt streets. Home owners on these streets have been paying taxes for years but due to economic reasons, their streets still remain in a deplorable condition. Moneys collected in real estate taxes for street maintenance is not adequate enough to maintain the main arteries of their city so they wait year after year in hopes that some day they may live on an improved street. What would be more of a boom to the unemployed of the city of Pittsburgh if a third of its money was returned to the city, specifically taged that it was to be used for the improving of dirt streets. Besides the number of men that would be employed in street work, thousands of dollars would be spent by the home owner in improving his home, for what incentive is it to him to improve his property when the proper city authorities through lack of funds cannot take any interest in improving the streets of that particular community.

In the Committee on Highways there rest two bills, one presented by Representative Coleman, and the other by myself. Either one of these bills tends to correct a very unjust condition existing in our Commonwealth. All these bills do is to ask for a fair distribution of the taxes that are collected by the Revenue Department. The streets of all our cities today are in bad condition. The high cost of maintenance and their improvements should not be charged against the home owner. It is high time that a man who builds a home should be encouraged and not penalized. Heavy traffic damages our streets and the taxes derived therefrom whether it be from gasoline, drivers' licenses or owners' licenses should be used not only in maintaining the roads of our State but shoud be proportionately used in maintaining the streets of our cities.

I earnestly request that the Committee on Highways report to this House either on House Bill No. 358 or No. 221 so that they can be given careful consideration by every member of this House. If we are to carry out our pledge to relieve the now overly tax burdened home owner the enactment of either of these bills will fulfill that pledge.

STATEMENT BY MR. PERRY.

Mr. PERRY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened with a great deal of interest and appreciation to the remarks of the gentleman who has just preceded me. I think he is absolutely correct and I am very glad that on that side of the House they are feeling the same way, because on February 17th there was given to the Committee on Highways by myself a bill that will meet exactely what the gentleman states are the needs of the city of Pittsburgh as well as the needs of all the other communities and will make a fair return in the distribution of tax moneys for the use of the cities, where it rightfully belongs. So, I refer the gentleman to that bill and would appreciate if he would read it and likewise include it in his remarks, namely, House Bil No. 896 prepared by mysef and reposing in the Committee on Highways since February 17th, by which sixty-eight million dollars of the funds contributed toward the License Fund will come back for the use of the cities, the boroughs and the other municipalities that are contributing their share and are entitled to those funds and which bill will solve and meet the needs that the gentleman has so aptly expressed as existing in his community.

STATEMENT BY MR. KILROY.

Mr. KILROY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to inform the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Perry, that the bill to which he refers was placed before the sub-committee about a month and a half ago for consideration at the request of a colleague of his and it so happens that that colleague is on that committee.

STATEMENT BY MR. PERRY.

Mr. PERRY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, may I express my thanks to the gentleman and also my future appreciation if the bill in question gets out of the sub-committee on Highways before May 21st.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Military Affairs for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Elpern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. ELPERN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Westmoreland what reason he gives for referring the bill back to the committee after first reading.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, I have stated my reasons, that it is for further study.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman realize that this bill has been in the Committee on Judiciary General for several months.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker does the gentleman from Westmoreland realize that the Committee on Judiciary General has given this bill quite a bit of consideration.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Toronzo, the gentleman from Allegheny County —

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of the gentleman from Westmoreland I wish to inform him that the name is Tronzo.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York will state his point of order.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the rules of the House prohibit mentioning members' names in debate.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Westmoreland realize that the Committee on Judiciary General has given this bill much study.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that the gentleman from Westmoreland has informed you that he does not know much about the bill or much about the reaction of the committee on the bill. I therefore ask the membership of this House to vote down the motion to refer back to committee.

On the question recurring

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "noes" appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, did not the Speaker just a moment ago announce a decision on the vote?

The SPEAKER. The Chair announced that the noes appears to have it but the final result was not announced so that a roll call is in order and the roll will be called.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, before the roll call is taken I should like to urge all the members of the House to vote "no" on this motion to recommitt. — —

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is now debating the proposition after the request for a roll call has been made and seconded.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not well taken. The gentleman is in order to discuss the question before the roll call has been started.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in urging upon the members to vote "no" on this motion I think they should do that in the spirit of fair play. This is an unusual procedure, moving to recommit on first reading, and I think if there is anything that should dominate the members here, it should be a sense of fair play. If there are those who are opposed to the bill, the proper place to bring that matter up is on second reading, where the merits of the bill can be discussed. I think the bill should remain on the calander and not be recommitted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McKINNEY and Mr. ELPERN.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

Section 1 Short Title Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act"

Section 2 Findings And Policy (a) Under prevailing economic conditions individual employes do not possess full freedom of association or actual liberty of contract Employers in many instances organized in corporate or other forms of ownership associations with the aid of government authority have superior economic power in bargaining with employes This growing inequality of bargaining power substantially and adversely affects the general welfare of the State by creating variations and instability in competitive wage rates and working conditions within and between industries and by depressing the purchasing power of wage earners thus (1) creating sweatshops with their attendant dangers to the health peace and morals of the people (2) increasing the disparity between production and consumption and (3) tending to produce and aggravate recurrent business depressions The denial by some employers of the right of employes to organize and the refusal by employers to accept the procedure of collective bargaining tend to lead to strikes lockouts and other forms of industrial strife and unrest which are inimical to the public safety and welfare and frequently endanger the public health (b) Experience has proved that protection by law of the right of employes to organize and bargain collectively removes certain recognized sources of industrial strife and unrest encourages practices fundamental to the friendly adjustment of industrial disputes arising out of differences as to wages hours or other working conditions and tends to restore equality of bargaining power between employers and employes

(c) In the interpretation and application of this act and otherwise it is hereby declared to be the public policy of the State to encourage the practice and procedure of collective bargaining and to protect the exercise by workers of full freedom of association self-organization and designation of representatives of their own choosing for the purpose of negotiating the terms and conditions of their employment or other mutual aid or protection free from the interference restraint or coercion of their employers

Wall.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2200, (Senate Bill No. 425), as follows:

An Act for the protection of the health and welfare of women and minors by regulating under the police power the minimum fair wages which shall be paid by employers providing for wage boards and defining the powers and duties of such boards and of the Department of Labor and Industry imposing duties on employers providing for directory and mandatory orders on employers and the publication of the names of employers who do not comply with such orders exempting certain persons from the provisions of this act and providing penalties

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That

Section 1 Factual Background Women and minors are employed in some occupations in trade and industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for wages unreasonably low and not fairly commensurate with the value of the services rendered Such a condition is contrary to public interest and public policy commands its regulation Women and minors employed in such industries are not as a class on a level of equality in bargaining with their employers in regard to minimum fair wage standards and "freedom of contract" as applied to their relations with their employers is illusory Judged by any reasonably standard wages in such industries are often found to bear no relation to the fair value of services rendered Women and minors employed for gain in such occupations are peculiarly subject to the overreaching of inefficient harsh or ignorant employers and under unregulated competition where no adequate machinery exists for the effective regulation and maintenance of minimum fair wage standards the standards such as exist to be set by the least conscionable employers In the absence of any effective minimum fair wage rates for women and minors the constant lowering of wages by unscrupulous employers constitutes a serious form of unfair competition against other employers reduces the purchasing power of the workers and threatens the stability of industry The evils of oppressive unreasonable and unfair wages as they affect women and minors employed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are such as to render imperative the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of industry and of the women and minors employed therein and of the public interest of the community at large in their health and well being

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under House Bill No. 621, Printer's No. 788, we have a bill which will cause paperhangers, painters and decorators to be licensed by the State. About the only thing that it leaves unlicensed now, if we pass such a bill as this, is some fellow who has a job chasing flies out of a restaurant. I think this is going the limit when you say that a man who happens to be a paperhanger, painter or decorator contractor should take out a license. I cannot see where it is going to make him any more efficient. They set up a board, the members of which will get fifteen dollars a day a piece when they work, and it comes under these various departments. I cannot see where it is a labor bill whatever. If a man decides to go into business I think he ought to be allowed to go into business without having to come up here and get permission from the Department of Labor and Industry in order to be a business man. We have come to the point where the State is licensing people for everything.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 4, page 7, line 18, by striking out the words "one year" and inserting in lieu thereof "five years"

Amend section 4, page 7, line 21, by inserting after the word "States" the following: "nor engage in any other business, vocation or employment"

Amend section 4, page 7, line 29, by inserting after the word "Board" the following: "The Board shall have all the powers and perform all the duties generally vested in and imposed upon independent administrative boards and commissions by the Administrative Code of 1929"

Amend section 4, page 8, line 7, by inserting after the word "Governor" the following: "and biennially to the Legislature"

Amend sec. 4, page 8, line 12, by striking out the words "nine thousand dollars ($9,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500)"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose the insertion of the amendments to section 4. Senate Bill No. 639 has caused much controversy and has been taken up with labor, with employers and with the Administration, and the bill as it is now has been agreed to by labor, employers and the Administration. I ask the House to vote down the amendments to section 4.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I agree with the gentleman from Luzerne that this bill now is in very much better condition than it was when it first came into the House. It has been made to conform to the National Labor Relations Act except in two particulars as to which I am seeking amendmnts. The first particular in which the bill as it stands does not conform and which I am seeking to amend is the provision which says that the Board shall make a report not only to the Governor but biennially to the Legislature. The National Act in paragraph c of section 3 provides that the National Board shall make a report in writing to Congress and the President. If there is a sound reason why there should be a report to Congress as well as the President it seems to me that there is equally a sound reason why the Board should report to the Legislature as well as to the Governor.

It has always amazed me that the Legislature seems so willing to surrender its prerogatives, that the Legislature has always been so willing to be subservient to the administrative branch of the government. The scheme of our Constitution, as we all know, is that we have component parts of government, legislative, executive and judicial, and this branch of the government is charged not only with making the laws but also as to the appropriations which we will make of the revenues of the Commonwealth. It is true, and I know the answer immediately will come from some one on the other side who is opposed to my amendments that we can get this information from the Governor or we find out from the Department any information we want. I think in the majority of cases that is true but I cannot see that that is an argument why the Legislature in itself in creating a board with as wide powers as this board has, a board that is going to have as far reaching an effect as this board's powers will have, a board that will have as great an influence upon the future of labor in Pennsylvania, that labor itself should be the party to be here today saying to the Legislature, "We want the report to come here, to representatives of the people every two years, and tell us what this Board is doing."

Just now it is a matter of common knowledge and, therefore, I do not think it improper to say so, we know that labor is extremely confident that they have the support and the friendly cooperation of the Administration, that they can secure most anything they want. But that may not exist two years from now, that may not exist six years from now. It may be very vital to labor itself and to the members of this Legislature at those times who are interested in the cause of labor to have reports here on the board in order that the Legislature may determine what its course may be. So it seems to me it is splitting hairs very fine to say now that the bill has been agreed upon and therefore there should be nothing written into it. There is also a psychology that is rather hard for me to understand among some of my colleagues that when the matter is settled in their minds then there must be no change, there is no open mindedness about it, it must be expeditiously shot forward. Then we found in several instances recently on the other side of this Legislature where the Senate asked to hold them up and perhaps they made an entire change. Perhaps if we were not quite so speedy in the House and were a little more open-minded we would not have had to have the change made in the Senate.

The second provision which I have suggested, and in which the bill as it stands does not conform to the National act, is the provision that the members of the Board shall not engage in any other business, vocation or employment. That is exactly the provision in section 4 of the National act, which says that each member of the Board shall receive a salary of ten thousand dollars a year, they shall be eligible for re-appointment and shall not engage in any other business, vocation or employment. I think that every one of us if we will just be fair about it and stop to think, will believe that that was a very wise provision in the National act. We do not permit the judges of our courts to engage in the practice of law; there we believe their time should not only be devoted to their judicial duties but they should have no other entangling interests. Undoubtedly the Federal authority in writing this act felt the same way. As I read the Senate bill, the McGinnis bill, and as I consider the provision of the National act, I felt that this provision should likewise be in our own act.

The other amendments which I have suggested do not appear in the National act. The first one is this: in the National act there is no provision in the appointment of the Board as to their qualifications. In the State act however it says that the man must be a citizen of the United States, he must be a resident of Pennsylvania and he must have been a qualified elector for a period of one year. That means that a man would only have to be a citizen of the United States for one year. If he were to receive his citizenship papers,—taking the present date, suppose he received them in the spring of 1936 and resided in Pennsylvania from that time until now and had been a qualified elector of Pennsylvania during that period of time, then he could be appointed as a member of this Board.

Some of my colleagues who are opposed to this amendment raised the question that a man had to be here five years before he could receive his citizenship papers, and that therefore this man would have resided in this country six years and he could become a member of the Board. I certainly have no feeling of intolerance toward any man who comes to this country. I am sure that I believe in the great American principle that our doors should be open to qualify people to come here. We want to encourage them to come here to became citizens of the United States. We have had many instances of many fine citizens who are well qualified to exercise their citizenship, who have only been here for a very short space of time. But that is not the question as I see it. Here you are dealing with labor relations; here you are dealing with something that has now come into the laws of the United States, and is coming into the laws of Pennsylvania, by which the government is saying that there are certain rights of labor which the government is going to protect; it is going to give them an opportunity for collective bargaining; it is going to determine what are unfair practices, and no doubt, as we go on under this Legislation there will be extensions of it in the years to come. I think that a man who sits on a Labor Relations' Board of this kind should have been a citizen of Pennsylvania for more than one year. I think he should have an understanding of the psychology, I will put it that way, of Pennsylvania; he should have something of the background of its people and of its traditions; he should have something of the background and what are the needs of the people of Pennsylvania. I know that men will say, "The Governor won't appoint anybody who is not qualified." I have seen men appointed to places or positions in the government of Pennsylvania who had no understanding whatever of the needs and qualifications and requirements of the people of Pennsylvania. In dealing with government that is a very vital and important factor. Every member of this Legislature knows that from time to time legislation has failed, which on its face seems to be perfectly proper, but it fails because you men know the temper of the people in your locality, you know their desires, you know what they want, and the members of the Legislature have refused to pass legislation, even though on its face it may appear to be meritorious. I have offered amendments that the members of the Board should be, instead of a resident for one year, should be a resident and a qualified elector of the State of Pennsylvania for a period of five years. I do not think that is unreasonable; I think that is a fair length of time to expect a man to live within our Commonwealth and understand our people, if he is going to exercise the great powers of this Board in dealing with labor in Pennsylvania.

I have two more amendments. One is a rather simple one. Its purpose is merely to make this act conform with the scheme of government in Pennsylvania. It provides that the Board shall have the powers and perform all the duties generally vested in and imposed upon independent administrative boards and commissions by the Administrative Code of 1929. We have an Administrative Code, which perhaps might be interesting reading to some of the members of the Legislature. You have heard me talking about the Sterling Committee; you have heard the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, talking about the Sterling Committee. Most of the things which are dealt with in those problems are things which come under the Administrative Code. The Code sets forth the duties, powers and functions of the different boards, commissions and departments of the State government. It seems to me if we are going to set up a board of this kind it ought to have the powers and perform all the duties generally vested in and imposed upon boards by the code. I do not know that that it vital, but you have a scheme of government,—that the board should conform to it. If there are provisions of that act which lay down the duties and powers of the board, then it seems to me that it would be proper to put into a piece of legislation of this kind a provision whereby it should conform. I say again it is not vital but it is certainly better legislation.

The last amendment is the one by which I seek to reduce the salaries to be paid to the members of the Board from nine thousand dollars to seven thousand five hundred dollars. You will notice from the National Act that the members of the National Board are paid ten thousand dollars a year. That was thought enough by the Congress of the United States to pay the National Board. I think our workmen's compensation board, if my memory is right, are paid seven thousand five hundred dollars in Pennsylvania. I know of no Board that we have except the Public Utilities Commission now, the old Public Service Commission and now the Public Utilities Commission, where the salary is ten thousand dollars,—the Securities Commission, I think the salary of the members of that commission is somewhere around seven thousand dollars or seven thousand five hundred dollars, but this board is to receive a salary of nine thousand dollars, and under the provisions of the act as you have it they were not to devote their entire time to their duties, but they could have other occupations and employment. I say that not only in the interest of economy but also on a common sense basis that a salary of seven thousand five hundred dollars a year is a fair and ample salary for any commissioner on a board of this character.

I therefore ask the members of the House to support these amendments.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, can we vote separately upon the different amendments?

The SPEAKER. That is correct, the question can be divided.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that in voting upon these amendments the question be divided.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the first amendment to section 4.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 4, page 7, line 18, by striking out the words "one year" and inserting in lieu thereof "five years."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, in his talk on these amendments made the statement that he wanted to conform with the Fedreal Relations Act, and at the same time he offered several amendments which are not in the Wagner Act.

As to the first amendment, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, striking out the word "one year" and inserting "five years," may I say that in practically all of the Administrative Boards you will find that the member of the board must be a citizen of the United States and a qualified elector of the State of Pennsylvania for one year. However, this bill reads: "Each member of the Board at the time of his appointment shall be a citizen of the United States and a resident of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and shall have been a qualified elector of the Commonwealth for a period of at least one year." I say to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that the Governor or no one else is going to appoint any one to an Administrative Board who has not been a citizen of the United States for more than one year. We may have a man who comes from some other state and he might be well qualified to fill the position as a member of this Board, and by inserting "five years," we cannot appoint him. I say to you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that one year in the Commonwealth is sufficient, and I say to you that I do not think the present Governor or any future Governor is going to appoint any one to an Administrative Board of the State of Pennsylvania who has not been a citizen of the United States for more than one year, or for more than ten years for that matter.

I ask the members of the House to vote down the amendment.
